

Troops on Guard While Mobs Roam Saigon's Streets

Gangs Refuse to Listen to Pleas for End of Violence

BY ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Mobs roamed the littered streets of Saigon today, waving machetes and meat cleavers as heavily-armed troops stood guard to prevent further bloodshed.

Street gangs defied pleas from Catholic, Buddhist, and government leaders to lay down their arms and go home.

Passers-by were attacked in isolated incidents, but the organized violence that turned the capital into a nightmare of lawlessness and mob rule Thursday and Thursday night had subsided.

Scores were wounded in fierce battles that left the streets cluttered with bricks, broken bottles and glass. Hospitals reported more than 60 innocent persons were injured.

Police placed the death toll at four. Newsmen, however, counted at least eight bodies.

Old political and religious antagonisms between Buddhists and Roman Catholics that led to the downfall last November of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government stirred the fighting.

The instability in the Communist-threatened nation posed a major test for the triumvirate of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and two other top officers selected by the military junta to lead South Viet Nam for two months.

Resignation
The role of the triumvirate remained cloudy. Khanh, 37, told a news conference the junta had not accepted his resignation as president.

The leader also said the junta, which was supposed to have dissolved, still was at work seeking a political solution for the nation.

Focal points of tension today remained the joint general staff headquarters near Saigon's airport, the central market, Saigon's main radio station and a high school. Several hundred demonstrators milled outside the gates of the general staff headquarters.

Troops armed with tear gas stood guard behind barbed wire barricades strung across the entrance. A civilian outside the gate was slashed in a skirmish in the crowd. He was dragged bleeding into the headquarters compound.

Some 2,000 students, armed with machetes, meat cleavers and other weapons, ringed the downtown market.

"We want to go and fight the students at the Catholic Technical School," one demonstrator told a reporter. "The Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam are 'Number 10.' They have burned many Buddhist pagodas, cut off the head of a Buddhist student Thursday and we want to kill them."

"Number 10" is Vietnamese slang for an enemy.

16 Rescued After Being Adrift 10 Days

MANILA (AP) — Sixteen persons have been rescued by a merchant vessel after drifting 10 days in waters east of the Philippines, the Manila Rescue Center reported today. All were reported weak but reviving.

The Philippine ship President Laurel radioed she had picked up all 16 passengers and crewmen of the motor vessel Don Mario.

Cleo Changes Into Lady

Hurricane Loses Force but May Renew Energy as It Veers to Sea

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo, no longer the blustering monster that roared through Miami, slumped weakly today at the rockets of Cape Kennedy and the city of Daytona Beach.

But the Miami Weather Bureau reported a tendency to redevelop in the offshore portion of the eye, and warned that the present northward track will carry the storm again over the Atlantic where Cleo could draw new energy from the warm Gulf Stream.

Warnings Stay Up
Only a 43-mile breeze, punctuated by a occasional gust up to 60, marked the passage of the once vicious storm to the west.

A tropical storm draws energy from water and Cleo had been over the Florida coast on long, winds of hurricane force remained only in a small area northeast of the center.

Hurricane warnings remained up north to Brunswick, Ga., and a hurricane watch was in effect to Charleston, S.C.

A curving, 2,500-mile path of death and destruction was behind the hurricane. Her known death toll stood at 138.

Cleo, which left Miami and 200 miles of Florida's Gold Coast, looking like a battle zone after striking with winds up to 115 miles an hour, hit Cape Kennedy with winds that peaked at 65 m.p.h.

That was 10 miles below hurricane strength.

Democrats Map Out Plans For 'Great Society' Crusade

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)

Accepting their nominations with the roaring tributes of the Democratic National Convention, President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey quickly turned today to the practical business of shaping a campaign aimed at defeating their Republican opponents.

Before they were to leave for a weekend at the LBJ ranch near Johnson City, Tex., the President and Humphrey, his vice presidential running mate, arranged to brief the party's national committee on their fast-forming political plans.

First Humphrey and then Johnson stood Thursday night in the blazing lights on the podium, to tell thousands of Democrats at the closing session of their convention that they had enlisted their energies in a crusade to build "the great society" in a tumultuous world.

Looks to Future
The President, interrupted time and again by applause, said, in accepting nomination for a first four-year elective term, that the election is "not between liberals and conservatives, party and party, platform and platform."

"It is between courage and timidity," he shouted. "It is between those who see what can be, and those who want only to maintain the status quo. It is between those who welcome the future and those who turn away from its promise."

He pledged "a constant, patient effort to move the world toward peace."

"Fair Play to All"
"I will use the full resources of the federal government," to assure fair play to all Americans, he continued, and said that his talents would be directed toward "bringing our nation together in unity."

"In pursuit of this common purpose," he said, "I believe we shall someday see an America that knows no North, or South, no East, or West — an America undivided by creed or color, untorn by suspicion or strife."

To accomplish this, he said that "those who break the law — those who create disorder — whether in the North or in the South — must be caught and brought to justice."

Violence Must End
"In every part of this country, the law must be respected and violence must be checked," he said.

Humphrey gave the crowd a lot more to yell about.

ATLANTIC CITY — A beaming Gov. John Reynolds and Patrick Lucey, candidate for lieutenant governor, were described Thursday as being close friends of the late President Kennedy and that their election is essential to continue programs started by the Kennedy administration.

The accolade came from Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, now a candidate for the senate from New York, who inserted a visit to the Wisconsin delegation hotel into a sentimental day at the convention city. It needed no saying, but the late president's brother recalled that the Kennedy march to the White House started in the snow and cold of the 1960 Wisconsin primary campaign.

"I wanted to come to show our appreciation to all of you for doing so much four years ago. You all played such a role in the nomination of President Kennedy. Though we weren't completely successful, we had a great beginning," the attorney general said.

The circumstances of Kennedy's visit illustrated the close ties of both politics and emotion between the Reynolds - Lucey branch of state Democrats and the Kennedy organization.

Despite the late hours of conventions, a band of about 25 badge state delegates went to the airport at 8 a.m. to be part of the Kennedy welcome. A Kennedy visit to the hotel was announced Wednesday night, but Kennedy's schedule ran behind. It was rescheduled suddenly two hours later.

"Steve Smith called me and said the schedule had been closed up. When I told him I didn't know if we could get a crowd, he said Bobby wanted to come only if you and John Reynolds are there," Lucey reported later.

Smith is a Kennedy brother-in-law and worked in the 1960 campaign when Lucey, as state party chairman, declared for Kennedy.

The scene could have been taken directly from that primary. Kennedy spoke to about 100 persons while standing on a chair in the lobby of the primitive hotel assigned to Wisconsin.

New Clashes Feared

Greeks Ask Turks to Delay Cyprus Rotation

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — land Turkey. Greek Cypriots warned they would repel a Greek asked the Turkish government today to postpone for a Turkish landing.

Turkish Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin announced Greece's request. No reason was given for the plea, submitted by Greek Ambassador Antonis Pombouras.

Turkey was expected to announce a reply shortly.

Government's Threat

The Cyprus government was quoted as saying the Turkish troops could depart from Cyprus but replacements would not be permitted and if they landed at the port of Famagusta they would be turned back by force if necessary.

The 650-man Turkish unit moved inside the Turkish Cypriot quarter in Nicosia when fighting erupted last December. About half the contingent is scheduled for rotation home Monday.

The 900-man Greek contingent reportedly also left its encampments during the fighting but later returned to its regular quarters west of Nicosia.

Both Turkish and Greek troops are here under treaties which gave independence to Cyprus. Turkey rotates half of its contingent every six months.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant, who flies to Geneva today, will use his good offices to try to head off a clash over the troop issue. Thant is going to Geneva to open an atoms-for-peace conference.

Gracie Allen, whose scatterbrained comedy helped make Burns and Allen a top act in show business for 34 years, died Thursday night after a heart attack. She was 58.

Spokesmen for the family said Miss Allen died at 11:15 p.m. and that her husband, comedy actor George Burns, was at her side at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Contacted at the Burns home in Beverly Hills, William Burns, George's brother, said the popular comedienne had been in seemingly good health before being stricken.

Dance Marks End of Summer

It started early with about five people; by ten there were about 900, and before the evening was over, close to 2,000 Fox Cities teens were dancing themselves into a back-to-school mood at the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce party in the AAL parking lot.

Conway Twitty showed up to entertain the teenagers at the end of summer event. The 'Catalinas,' a local rock 'n' roll group, was also on hand to provide music for dancing and humming. Soft drinks and popcorn kept the young people full of energy and ready to enjoy themselves.

Dance contests, featuring the Watusi, the Monkey and the Swim, were held, and records went to the most skilled hoofers.

The party was chaperoned by Jaycee members and their wives. Don Long was dance chairman, assisted by co-chairman Frank Mueller, Gerold Schoepke, Jerry Long, James Krupa and James Longgreen.

A Group That Knows its way around a rock 'n' roll tune put the AAL parking lot on the dance map Thursday evening. The 'Catalinas' provided dance and toe-tappin' music for the teens who showed up

The Evening was one of the first warm ones in several weeks, and many teens who attended the Jaycee dance thought it a good idea to take off their shoes. Dance contests, with records as prizes, were the feature of the evening. Above, Jeff Sage and Sandy Russell let the music set the rhythm. Doubting Opponent's Bid Smart

"My husband scolded me for failing to make this hand," writes a fan, "but I think he was just using hindsight. Please tell us who was right."

"I took the first trick with the ace of diamonds and led a spade to win a finesse with dummy's queen. Then I took the king and ace of trumps, and the bad break beat me. I lost a trump, a diamond, and two clubs."

"My husband said West was marked with ten cards in diamonds and clubs. When he showed up with two spades he could hold only one heart, so I should have finessed through East for the jack of trumps.

"I don't trust West's bidding that much. He would bid just as much with only nine cards in his two suits, and might hold J-8 of hearts instead of the singleton eight."

"If I lot a finesse to the doubleton jack of trumps my husband would howl loud enough to be heard in Greenland. Are you going to back him up because he's a man, or are you going to be fair?"

Fair Is Fair

If it's put that way, I have to be fair. The lady is right: she should not trust West's bidding. Any girl whose husband can be heard in Greenland shouldn't trust an opponent.

But South should make her contract away. After taking the king and ace of trumps she should lead a spade to the ace and ruff a spade. Back to dummy with a club, and another spade ruff.

By this time South has taken the first eight tricks and still has the Q-10 of trumps in her hand. She leads a club or a diamond and waits. Sooner or later she will get a trick with the ten of hearts as well as with the queen.

It pays to use the bidding to count an opponent's hand, but not if you can make absolutely sure of the count by playing the cards correctly. If you become known as a trusting player, nasty opponents will try to mislead you with unorthodox bids.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S 3 2 H A Q 10 9 6 2 D A 6 C 8 7 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. You have 10 points in high cards and two points for the doubletons. This is a skimpy total for an opening bid, but you have 2½ quick tricks and a strong six-card major suit—both good arguments for opening the bid.

Miss Vander Heyden Parents Tell Betrothal of Daughter

MENASHA—The engagement of Miss Maria Vander Heyden to David Reuter has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Vander Heyden, route 1, Menasha. Mr. Reuter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Reuter, 744 First St.

The couple is employed at Geo. Banta Co. Mr. Reuter served three years in the armed forces.

A late summer 1965 wedding is planned.

A Tea to Welcome new teachers and their wives was held by the faculty wives at Kimberly High School Monday after a day of in-service training sessions. Shown pouring is Mrs. Thomas Neal. Others are Mrs. Eugene Mason, Mrs. Robert Arko and Mrs. Thomas Martin. (Post-Crescent Photo)

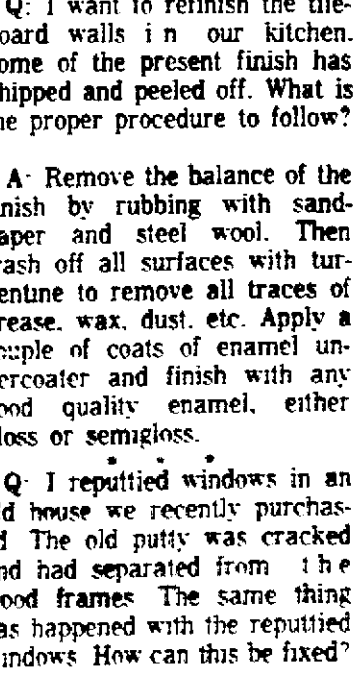

Miss Constance Faye Newland, 820 N. Story St., became the bride of Lee Robert Snyder Saturday at Most Precious Blood Catholic Church, New London. The Rev. Andrew G. Linsmeyer officiated at the double ring ceremony of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Newland, Rochester, Minn., and the son of Mrs. Rexford Buck, New London, and Lyle Snyder, New London. The couple will live at 889½ Maple St., Neenah. (Carter-Hanson Photo)

The Ailing House Lacquer Aluminum Edging

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Our landlord modernized our kitchen by covering counters on either side of the sink with a plastic material, and edging it all with an aluminum strip. Now, when anyone leans against this aluminum, a black mark is left on their clothes. Can you suggest any way to overcome this?

A: Clean and polish the metal. Then wipe the surface with naphtha, being very careful of the fire hazard. Then apply a thin coat of clear lacquer, or a coat of pure, fresh white shellac (thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol). This will need periodic renewal as it wears off.

Miss Jane Mary Janssen and Harland Arthur Burmeister were married at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. John Catholic Church, Little Chute. The Rev. Martin Vosbeek celebrated the nuptial high mass. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Janssen, 520 E. Lincoln Ave., Little Chute. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burmeister Sr., 2109 N. Appleton St., are the parents of the bridegroom. (Pec h m a n Photo)

A: You probably did not give the wood on the inside of the frame a coat of linseed oil before applying the putty. As a result, the old, dry wood drew out the oil in the new putty, making it dry and brittle. The only thing to do is to remove the putty, feed the wood its coat of oil and putty again.

Q: We are planning to have an extra half-bathroom installed downstairs. We have dry wall construction. What kind of dry wall should we use for partitioning off this bathroom? We want to use plastic tile on top.

A: Plasterboard (gypsum wallboard) would make an excellent base for plastic tile.

Parents' World

Problem Foster Child Needs Consistency, Not Punishment

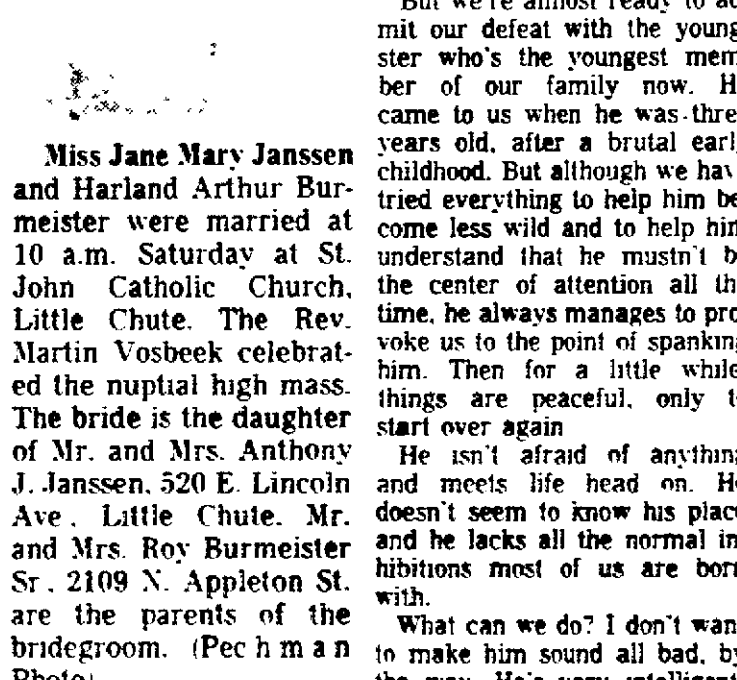

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: We have been foster parents to five children over the past 15 years and we have never, until now, faced any real problem with any one of them. By using love and patience, we have always been able to teach them how to behave like decent people, and whatever backgrounds they have come from, they all seemed to understand that we cared for them and wanted to help them. So they were never naughty and never were anything except a source of pride and joy to us once they were in school.

But we're almost ready to admit our defeat with the youngster who's the youngest member of our family now. He came to us when he was three years old, after a brutal early childhood. But although we have tried everything to help him become less wild and to help him understand that he mustn't be the center of attention all the time, he always manages to provoke us to the point of spanking him. Then for a little while, things are peaceful, only to start over again.

He isn't afraid of anything and meets life head on. He doesn't seem to know his place and he lacks all the normal inhibitions most of us are born with.

What can we do? I don't want to make him sound all bad, by the way. He's very intelligent, lively, and affectionate, and he can keep himself occupied by himself for hours if necessary. He's healthy and does well in school, although the teacher constantly has to scold him for being a nuisance or for getting ahead of the class. I know he's bored because he knows the work already. But that doesn't give him an excuse to cause trouble, does it? At any rate, what can we do about him?

MRS. N. K.

Stop making the serious mistake of giving this confused child the punishment he first associated with daily living. By letting him get himself hurt in his efforts to try to prove to himself that he isn't frantically afraid of being hurt, you're helping him continue the same neurotic conflicts he was placed in your home to escape from.

Resolve, no matter what, to avoid every form of physical or moral punishment.

When he's "wild" or "fearless" or "provocative" in any way, simply stop him.

Tell him, "I don't want you to try to hurt yourself, and I'm not going to let you get me angry, because I know you get hurt and frightened when you think I don't love you. Now stop that."

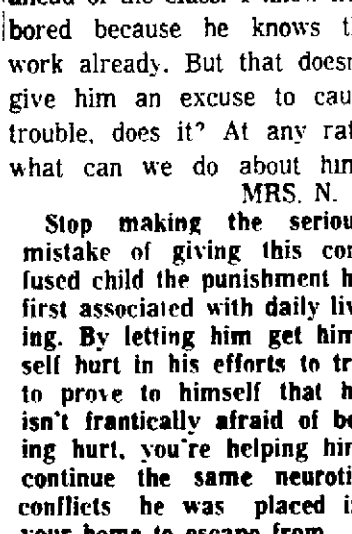

Miss Marian Robbert and Roger Boushley exchanged nuptial promises Saturday at the Lutheran Church, West Bloomfield. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. K. K. Leduer. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Robbert, Weyauwega. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boushley, route 1, Weyauwega. (Carter-Hanson Photo)

Today's Etiquette BY LOUISE DAVIS

THEY TALK TOO MUCH

Dear Louise: We moved into a four unit, one story apartment almost a year ago and as neighbors, all of us have been wonderfully friendly and compatible until recently. The couple next door are very opinionated and never give an inch on any issue. My husband and I have been careful with our diplomacy and have leaned over backwards to avoid heated arguments. The latest is politics. Because we are of opposing parties, we were accused of being communists and radicals which is far, far from the truth. My husband and I have tried friendly approaches. All we get now is a frozen smile and a nod and we wonder if our friendship is beyond redemption. We do have to live side by side and feel dreadful about the serious break. Can you think of any way that we can patch up our differences? There is no animosity on our part, just disappointment and disillusionment.

Louise Davis Answers:

Alas, friendships are often broken every four years before a presidential election. But after the shouting and balloting are over, differences recede quickly and life returns to normal. I have a very strong hunch that your neighborly relationship will be just as amicable as it was before. You'll all cool off and the differences will be patched up without apology or discussions. Unless people understand each other by respecting opinions, it is wise to avoid political, religious and other controversial subjects. Each is sold on his own and should never try to persuade the other fellow that only he is right.

BEAR CREEK — Mr. and Mrs. David J. Flanagan observed their 50th wedding anniversary Thursday at a family dinner party at the Rainbow Supper Club, New London.

The couple was married Aug. 20, 1914 at the St. Augustine Catholic Church, Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan have a daughter, Mrs. Paul Downs, and a son David Flanagan Jr., both of Bear Creek. They also have five grandchildren.

Your Problems

Boy Friend's Antics Show He's 'Flakey as a Biscuit'

BY ANN LANDERS

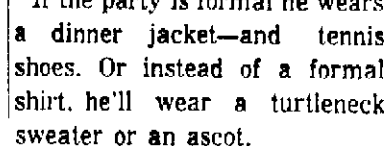

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am going with a nut. Last night when he arrived to take me to a party he had a black patch over a perfectly good eye. At first I was frightened I thought something terrible might have happened to him. I should have known Ann Landers better. He is always doing crazy things like that.

If the party is formal he wears a dinner jacket—and tennis shoes. Or instead of a formal shirt, he'll wear a turtleneck sweater or an ascot.

Last year he grew a half a mustache. I refused to kiss him till he shaved it off. (It took three weeks before he gave in.)

Last week he tried to pay a bar bill with Chinese money. He got into an argument with the bartender and I was embarrassed to tears. We were asked to leave.

Believe it or not, he has many fine qualities and is considered a good catch. I'd like to marry him, but frankly I'm afraid. What do you say?—Shakey Sheila

Dear Shakey: If these small-boy antics embarrass you now, I can promise you that after marriage they will drive you out of your mind.

A guy who is as flakey as this one sounds would probably sign the marriage certificate with invisible ink—then where would you be, Toots?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We gave our daughter a telephone by her calls. This is what happened: I am of her own for her 16th birthday. It was what Linda wanted most in all the world. She begged for it for two years. To be honest, I was happy to see her get her own telephone because our line was constantly tied up.

The other evening my husband and I went out. He was expecting an important business call and tried to telephone home to learn if the call had come through. Well, he tried for 30 minutes to get our line without success. He finally got so mad he got into the car and drove home. There he found Linda, lying on our bed yapping on our telephone.

He asked her why she was not using her own phone. She replied, "I am expecting Bill to call and I wanted to leave my line free." What do we do now?—Stonewall

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Canada

NEW LONDON — The First Congregational Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Emerich and Henry

Mrs. Henry Hauser

John Hauser at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Davis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Emerich, 1610 Lawrence St. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hauser, Mukwonago, are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. James Sutliff, Stevens Point, acted as matron of honor. Attending as bridesmaids were Miss Harriet Kormm, Miss Jane Beck and Miss Mary Hauser.

A brother of the bridegroom, Thomas Hauser, acted as best man. Richard Emerich and Wayne Smith were groomsmen. Ushering duties were shared by David Emerich and Roger Fritz.

Guests greeted the couple at a reception at the Rainbow Supper Club, New London.

Mrs. Hauser attends Wisconsin State University, Oshkosh. She is affiliated with Lambda Chi. Mr. Hauser was graduated from Wisconsin State University, Oshkosh, and is a teacher in the Omro school system. The couple will live in Oshkosh.

Dear Annamarie: Before you accepted the date you consulted an excellent authority—your clergyman. He gave you what I feel was superb advice, and I hope you will continue to follow it. If the girls have any further criticism, direct them to him.

Heard the Word? It's Discotheque

BY VIVIAN BROWN

The jig is up if you go in for the newest fad, the discotheque, where dancing takes practically no footwork. People cavort in frenzied antics sort of a softshoe shimmy from the hips up.

But it's the kind of party to give these days, if you are really with it.

Being up on discotheque means knowing how to pronounce it (deeskoteki).

And where it originated — Paris.

And Where It Is Done

Discotheques are places that play records for dancers. These danceterias are in all sorts of places from the most elegant night clubs to coffee houses, usually using stereo playback equipment.

It's all arms, shoulders and hips. You can do the Hully Gully (pronounced Frug) or the Frug (pronounced Frog). You stand still as you convulse your torso. On the West Coast the "Swim" is popular (the better to practice your swimming lessons) as arms flail one boy, and everything is so around in swimming strokes.

One dance called the Monkey — you do everything a monkey does — is definitely for people who have no inhibitions, described by one girl as positively obnoxious, and by another as positively revolting.

There's a whole new fashion many people in a room. Pin some record disks to the wall for evening atmosphere. Serve some light-hearted food to keep the crowd bobbing.

And why — It seems to be the fad, but mainly dresses are perfect solution to getting hundreds of people on a dance floor strapless or one-strap styles. Any discotheque dress has a bobbing.

Marriage Vows Said Thursday

NEENAH — Mrs. William Gilbert, Nicolet Blvd., and Dr. George N. Pratt Jr., 368 Lokas St., Menasha, exchanged marriage promises Thursday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed at the Gilbert home by the Rev. William Downey, pastor of Fox Point Lutheran Church, Whitefish Bay.

Mrs. Johnson Wants to Go For a Rest

Family Scheduled For Trip to Home in Texas Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — "I was thrilled and happy," she said of the tumultuous ovation that greeted President Johnson's acceptance speech.

Now she wants to go "somewhere so we can rest."

But in the 30 years Lady Bird

Johnson has been at Lyndon crowded that Lynda and Luci Johnson's side she has learned moved out to sit in rows behind. that, above all, he is unpredictable. Luci, in a white coat, sat with a boy friend, Paul Betz of Washington, while Lynda, wearing a burgundy dress, sat with several friends.

So, even though they are scheduled to go to Texas today, she cautions "things have been known to change and to suddenly happen."

Thursday Night

Thursday night, Mrs. Johnson and their daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17, applauded proudly from the presidential box as the Convention Hall rocked to his speech, accepting the presidential nomination.

When he had finished, they joined him on the rostrum to share the plaudits by his side. Lady Bird, smiling, blew kisses in response to the cheers.

For the final session of the convention, the First Lady chose a beige dress with matching silk coat. She carried a corsage of white orchids sent to her by the Ladies for Johnson of the President's home county of Blanco, Texas.

Kennedy Memorial

A memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy, Eleanor Roosevelt and Speaker Sam Rayburn marked the closing session, and Mrs. Johnson invited members of the Kennedy and Roosevelt families to sit with her. Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey was a guest there, too.

For a time, the big box was so

Another Beau

After the family had taken its bows on the platform, Luci turned up with another beau, her longtime friend, Jack Olsen of Maiden Rock, Wis. He now has a job as an elevator operator in the Capitol.

Past midnight and the convention over, Mrs. Johnson stood beside her husband on a balcony of the hall.

A glowing half-moon shimmered over the Atlantic surf as the sky filled with rockets in a 56th birthday party salute to the President.

Fete Retiring Bank Workers

Three Honored At Retirement Dinner Party

Three employees of First National Bank of Appleton were honored at a retirement dinner Wednesday in Strobe Island Haven.

Feted were Mrs. Violet Gur-holt, Elizabeth Eifealdt and Al Stoegbauer.

Mrs. Gurholt joined the bank's staff in 1957 as a bookkeeper. She had worked for banks in Appleton's Fourth Ward all her life before moving to Appleton to live with her youngest son.

She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and served two years as treasurer of that group.

Miss Eifealdt, an Appleton native, has worked with the bank since 1922 and was general bookkeeper at the time of her retirement.

She also worked two summers with Kimberly - Clark Corp., Neenah.

Stoegbauer is in his ninth term as Appleton's Fourth Ward alderman. He joined the bank 32 years ago and was with another bank 10 years. At the time of his retirement, he was assistant cashier.

In addition to being an alderman, he also was active in various Catholic organizations, the Boy Scouts, the Anti-Tuberculosis Association and the American Cancer Society.

Buckley, Lorge Disagree About Voting Record

Bear Creek Senator Accuses Opponent of 'Bare-Faced' Lies

More than just a little dissension popped up Thursday at the Outagamie County Republican Party's "Candidates' Night" program in the civic room of the Outagamie County Bank.

Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, the incumbent senator in the state's 14th District, and Lorge's opponent, George Buckley, Appleton, were involved in a heated session of charges and counter-charges.

Lorge accused Buckley of "a bold-faced lie" for charging Lorge had missed 114 roll call votes in the past session of the State Legislature.

So Is Press

And Lorge also accused Buckley of lying for saying Lorge cast the deciding vote for the withholding tax in the State Senate.

Buckley answered Lorge's accusation by saying his source of information on Lorge's roll call voting record was The Milwaukee Sentinel.

"And," Buckley said, "if I'm a liar for saying what I did, so is The Milwaukee Sentinel who researched Lorge's voting record and printed it and so is the Appleton Post - Crescent for printing it, and so are radio stations WHBY and WAPL for reading it over the air."

"Prove My Record"

Lorge's anger was the result of an article in Thursday's Post-Crescent which reported on a speech Buckley gave Wednesday to the county Youth for Gold-water group.

In his speech Wednesday, Buckley accused Lorge of missing 114 roll call votes in the past State Senate session and of casting what might have been a deciding vote in favor of the withholding tax.

During his speech Lorge said it was "the duty of the man running for office to prove that

Outagamie Assembly Candidates Oppose Dummy Corporations

Six Republican Hopefuls Discuss Issues, Experience in Program

Most Republican candidates for Outagamie County's three Assembly seats agreed on one thing Thursday night—they don't like Wisconsin's dummy building corporations. They all appeared at a "candidates' Night" program in the civic room of the Outagamie County Bank.

Both Harold Froehlich, the incumbent First District assemblyman, and Patrick Mares, a candidate in the new Third District, flatly called for the dissolution of the building corporations and a state referendum to amend the constitution and allow a higher state debt.

Two other Third District candidates, Ervin (Butch) Conradt and John Gillespie, called for a constitutional limit on the amount of borrowing that the building corporations can do.

Also speaking at the program were the two Second District GOP candidates—Norman Austin, Town of Oneida, and Lawrence D. Beck, Kaukauna.

Difficult to Control

Froehlich, an Appleton attorney, said, "Legislators have a difficult time controlling the building corporations' debt and have hardly any control over spending."

Cites Background

"We should work toward a limitation on state debt with referenda for any big spending proposals," he said.

Austin listed his background as a farmer, an employee of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, and as an employee in a general store.

"The Democrats," Austin said, always call themselves the party of the farmer, the laborer and the small businessmen. In my work, and by serving on the county board as supervisor and as Oneida town

Youth Fined for Fast Driving, Hit and Run

William Schaffer, 18, 114 W. Pacific St., pleaded guilty today in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 to charges of driving too fast for conditions and hit and run. He was fined $25 on the first count and $15 on the second.

Schaffer admitted to city police Wednesday morning he was involved in an accident on W. Prospect Avenue the previous evening. His car struck a telephone pole and two trees after careening out of control. He left the scene and reported the accident the following day.

This is the "Trouble Spot" which caused Fox Cities motorists in Appleton undue delays Thursday in driving through town. The Memorial Drive bridge is closed to traffic and alternate routes are congested by heavy traffic. The intersection on the north end of the bridge remains open east and west until Sept. 8. workers, however, are laying underground lines at both ends of the bridge preparatory to the resurfacing and widening project. This picture shows the Memorial Drive-Prospect Avenue intersection looking south toward Menasha. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Appleton Drivers Face 29 Days of 'Obstacle Course'

Drum and Bugle Corps Competition to Start At 6 p.m. Saturday

The first of eleven drum and bugle corps to compete in the sixth annual Fiesta Musicanade los Americanos will go "off the line" at 6 p.m. Saturday at Goodland Field.

Six units will compete in Class C starting at 6 a.m. and five corps will vie for the Hollenbeck Family Memorial and traveling trophy and other awards in Open Class competition starting about 7:45 p.m.

Each unit will present an 11-13 performance of marching and playing. Also scheduled to appear are the Appleton Americanos and Toros drum and bugle corps host units for the event.

All units will participate in a College Avenue parade starting at 2 p.m.

Construction Projects Cause Motorists to Seek Other Routes

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The next 29 days will be days that try motorists' souls — particularly those Fox Cities drivers who must seek and find routes through Appleton's maze of construction projects.

Thursday motorists found themselves in unfamiliar traffic jams which in some cases put an additional hour on their journey through the city.

Appleton policemen stationed at the critical intersections along Oneida Street where Memorial Drive traffic is being shifted, found 1,000 cars per hour were crossing the intersections. Many policemen stationed at the crossings worked overtime hours and were ordered to stay at their posts until relieved of duty.

One Accident

Only one traffic accident was reported in the jam and that was a minor collision between two cars on the Oneida Street hill at Prospect Avenue. A car struck the rear of a car causing minor bumper damage. Both cars were in bumper - to - bumper traffic waiting to cross the Oneida Street bridge.

The big factor in the creation of the jams was the shut-off of the Memorial Drive bridge to traffic on Memorial Drive. The bridge will be barricaded for 29 more days and motorists must seek new routes into and out of the city.

Congestion today was somewhat relieved by wary drivers who entered the city from Neenah and Menasha by driving U.S. 41 to College Avenue or coming to the north and entering on N. Richmond Street.

Lawe Street Bridge

At noon Thursday, traffic on the Lawe Street bridge was opened and some motorists found that way accessible. However, motorists driving south on N. Lawe Street found the entrance to Lawe Street was blocked from E. College Avenue for a trenching project. Police have placed signs there telling

Firemen Make Two Runs in Appleton

Appleton firemen Thursday made runs to Maurice's, 118 E. College Ave., where a defective light fixture produced odor and smoke and to the intersection of Atlantic and Mead streets where a battery in a car shorted. The car was driven by Steve Meyer, 616 E. Third St., Kimberly.

The next 29 days will be days that try motorists' souls — particularly those Fox Cities drivers who must seek and find routes through Appleton's maze of construction projects.

Police plan further improvements in the Oneida Street traffic problem by placing "No Parking" signs from Prospect Avenue all the way south to Foster Street. Without parking, cars will be able to turn left off Oneida Street and allow cars to get around them.

Police Thursday began telling industries in the "flats" area of Oneida Street of other routes

Boy, 14, Puts Others 'To Sleep'

A 14-year-old judo student who has a "stranglehold" on his neighborhood has been reported to Appleton police by parents of several children who claimed the young expert put their children "to sleep" with a pressure hold.

One parents said her two children went right to sleep after the 14-year-old applied a pressure hold to her two children's necks. The mother said the children were younger than the judo expert.

Police talked to the 14-year-old youth's mother and informed her of the complaints. Both mother and son said they would curb the demonstrations in the future.

Byrnes Claims Democrats Distort Truth

BY DICK LYNEIS

National Democratic Party leaders came under heavy attack from Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, Thursday night when he charged them with "distorting the truth."

Speaking at a Republican "Candidates' Night" in the civic room of the Outagamie County Bank, Byrnes said, "After hearing Sen. John O. Pastore and (Speaker of the House) John McCormick speak to the Democratic national convention, I passed and providing them with increased benefits over the objections of the administration is extremism, we Republicans

Lorge Refutes Buckley Speech

Says Opponent's Charges on Voting Record 'Incorrect'

In a statement made today to the Post-Crescent, State Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, said his Republican primary opponent, George Buckley of Appleton, was "incorrect" in charging Lorge had missed 114 roll call votes.

Lorge said he telephoned State Sen. Robert Knowles, New Richmond, today and asked him "to immediately have the Senate Legislative Council tabulate the voting records of all state senators and assemblymen."

"I read to him a statement made by Buckley and informed him the statement was incorrect, untrue and misleading."

Considering Proposal

"Sen. Knowles is considering my proposal," Lorge said.

Lorge said he also called State Sen. Ernest Keppler of Sheboygan, who, Lorge said, has made a tabulation of voting in the Senate listing 1,090 roll call votes of every type. "Many," Lorge said, "were for quorums."

Testimony Conflicts In Last Day of Labor Practices Hearing

Briefs Due by Oct. 1 in Case Against Appleton Truck Firm

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A three-day National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) hearing on unfair labor practice charges against an Appleton firm ended late Thursday on a note of conflicting testimony.

Fox Valley Truck Service, Inc. was the respondent in action initiated by Teamsters Local 563 after it organized a union at the firm in April.

Hearing Examiner A. H. Malter, Washington, D. C., gave attorneys for both sides until Oct. 1 to file briefs. He did not say when a decision would be handed down.

Wednesday's session was marked by the examiner's admonishment to attorneys on their lines of questioning and a two-hour cross-examination of John Toppins, president of the truck company.

Retrace Events

In the complaint, prosecuted by attorneys from the NLRB regional office, it was claimed Lyle Burt, a mechanic, was fired because of alleged union activities. Other actions of the company and its representatives also were challenged through charges union members alleged were coerced and intimidated.

All allegations were denied by the company.

Throughout the day company witnesses retraced the events leading to and after formation of the union. The employees said their reason for unionizing was to obtain shorter work hours and higher wages. Work weeks ranged from 55 to 62 hours, with overtime pay in effect.

The company became aware of union activity, it was testified, after Kenneth Kohl, a mechanic, told Toppins on April 22.

Burt Was "Slow"

Kermit Langdok, a foreman, testified he did not think Burt was a good employee for the company to keep "because of the slowness of his work and inability to take orders." Langdok said he reprimanded Burt many times during his employment from 1955 to April 23 of this year.

Langdok said he knew of two occasions on which Toppins asked Burt to quit and he refused. Langdok, who was present when Burt was discharged, said there had been no mention of the union then.

On cross examination by attorney Gerry Miller, Milwaukee, representing Local 563, Langdok said Burt got annual pay increases with other employees. He also said Burt was made acting

Rock and Roll Music Heard All Over Town

Apparently not everyone was attending the Junior Chamber of Commerce's first street dance in the 200 block of W. Washington Street Thursday night.

Police heard from between 35 and 40 persons who weren't there but could hear the rock and roll music anyhow.

Police said complaints the festivities could be heard came from all directions of the city and were being received from 9 p.m. on.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell called police about 11:40 p.m. and called a final halt to the encores of the performers and dancers. He said he had been receiving calls "all night long."

An estimated crowd of 2,000 young people turned out for the dancing and live entertainment. Police said the crowd was orderly, and there were no incidents.

Students to Register on Sept. 8, 9, 10

About 500 students are expected to register Sept. 8-10 for fall semester classes in the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

Enrollment will be up about 50 from last year when classes began Sept. 14, center director Verne Imhoff said.

Freshman enrollment will be substantially greater this year, but last year's freshman class, the new sophomore class, was small, he said.

Nine new faculty members will join the center's staff and several new courses will be added to the curriculum.

Full Nursing Program

For the first time the center will offer the full curriculum for the first two years of the nursing program. Sixteen sophomores are enrolled in nursing this fall. They will complete the course and earn a bachelor of science degree on the Madison campus.

Completion of a second biology laboratory, added as part of the expansion and remodeling work finished last fall, was necessary before the full nursing curriculum could be offered. The addition of a physiology course this fall and bacteriology during the second semester will round out the sophomore nursing program.

Registration is scheduled Sept. 8, for sophomores, Sept. 9, for freshmen, and Sept. 10, for persons carrying less than eight credits. Sessions will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day in the fine arts room.

Tests Scheduled

Aptitude and interest tests for entering freshmen and transfer students taking 12 or more credits are scheduled to begin at 7:45 a.m. Friday, Sept. 11. The tests are not required for part-time students.

Orientation convocations will be held Sept. 10, with freshmen to meet at 7 p.m. in the fine arts room and sophomores to meet at 8:30 p.m. in the lecture hall.

At the convocations Imhoff will welcome the students. Representatives from the student senate, the student life and interests committee, the building and grounds committee and the

Driver Needed for Special Bus Used For Handicapped

Morgan School Principal Roland Nock is looking for a qualified driver for the school's bus for handicapped children.

The small bus, donated by the Rotary Club last year, is used to transport wheelchair-bound children to and from school. A noon run to Oshkosh to pick up two Appleton children attending the Oshkosh School for the Deaf and other services for handicapped pupils will be added this year, Nock said.

The driver will be a full-time employee of the Appleton public school, and will help at Morgan School when he is not driving the bus, Nock said.

He should have a good driving record, be at least 21 years old, and physically strong, and like children, Nock said.

Persons interested should contact Nock at home (Regent 3-8078) or at the school (Regent 9-3121, Extension 26), he said.

Test Won't Determine New Patrol Sergeant

Fill Vacancy, Committees Decide

Qualifications for the position of sergeant within the Outagamie County traffic patrol will not be determined by a test taken last month in which only one patrolman qualified as passing.

A joint meeting Thursday afternoon between the county's civil service and salary committee and the traffic committee determined the test qualification should be dropped, but that a promotion within the department should be made to fill the position.

The vacancy occurred when Sgt. George Elise died in June.

2 Years Experience

It was learned that the meeting, which was closed to the press, discussed a letter written by the civil service and salary committee which directed that Capt. Ronald Decker promote the one patrolman in his department to sergeant on the qualifications that he was the only man to pass the examination. The man has two years experience on the patrol.

Last week the traffic committee, after interviews, recommended a patrolman with 14 years experience for the position.

Not Informed

In Thursday's meeting, it was learned that the civil service and salary committee's demand that the patrolman be promoted on the basis of the test was withdrawn. A legal opinion from A. W. Ponath, corporation counsel, supported the traffic committee's feelings that testing was not a necessary qualification for promotion within the department.

Norman Austin, chairman of the police and traffic committee and John Schreiter, chairman of the civil service and salary committee, were unavailable for comment on the meeting.

Decker said he had not been informed of the committee's decisions in the matter.

Teen Volunteers Given Awards

WINNEBAGO — Certificates of merit were presented to eight group chairmen and five individuals representing 83 teen-age volunteers at Hughes Hall gymnasium, Winnebago State Hospital, Thursday night. Time given by the various volunteer groups at the hospital totaled more than 1,000 hours, according to the hospital.

The recognition night was held in conjunction with a dance. During the intermission, Dr. E. R. Loftus, assistant clinical director of the hospital, presented the certificates and expressed his appreciation.

"The community should feel proud of these young people who travel from Appleton, Oshkosh, low bidders for residence hall Menasha, Sheboygan and Winneconne to serve in such a commendable manner," he said. Group chairmen presented Bids have been let for two with certificates included Miss Barbara Dorschner, chairman of St. Timothy Luther Leaguers.

Individuals receiving certificates were the Misses Carol McCulloch, Kathy Wasser, Pat Duex, Mary Metzen and Linda Bauer, all of Oshkosh.

Working under the supervision of Robert Meisner, acting volunteer coordinator, the volunteers socialize with shut-ins, walk patients, sponsor entertainment, help write letters, and take part in other projects designed to make life more enjoyable for patients.

Labor Talks Scheduled At Post Office

MENASHA — Labor negotiations between Local 468, United Federation of Postal Clerks, and officers at the Menasha Post Office will begin here Monday on a new contract.

The first session of negotiations is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at the post office. Postmaster James Omachinski this morning said proposals are scheduled to be exchanged 48 hours before the first meeting.

The union negotiating team will be composed of Frank Schipferling, president of the union; Ronald Scheurle Sr., secretary-treasurer; Calvin Bellmore and Walter Baumber.

Negotiating for the post office department will be Omachinski, Ivan Resch, assistant postmaster; Joseph Walbrun, superintendent of mailing; Ambrose Gracyalny, foreman.

Negotiations will be to establish a one-year contract. The 1963 contract was the first negotiated by the union.

The pair was arrested by Menasha police early today after someone saw a car near the beer depot and someone placing packages into the car.

Police staked out the car and beer depot where a window was found broken.

Sawyer was picked up for questioning while walking down a street in Neenah and turned over to Menasha police.

"Car Stolen"

Maynard phoned Neenah police and reported his car stolen. Neenah police replied Menasha had the car at the police Prosser Beer Depot. He asked station and wanted to talk to for the appointment of an attorney on the grounds that he is indigent and cannot afford an attorney. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Set for Sept. 4

Judge Sarres set further proceedings in his case for Sept. 4 and set bond at $5,000.

Four cases of beer, seven bottles of whiskey and several cartons of cigarettes were reported taken from the beer depot.

Legal Bingo Being Backed By Jaycees

Kaukauna to Help Mishicot in Bid to State Legislature

KAUKAUNA—Members of the Lakeshore District of the Jaycees voted at a quarterly meeting in the Legion Club Thursday night to support the Mishicot chapter in its effort to have the state legislature legalize bingo for charitable purposes.

The proposal will now be brought before a quarterly meeting of several districts Sept. 11 and 12 in Marinette for approval. If supported, it will be proposed at a state Jaycee session to bring it to the attention of legislators.

A dinner opened the program, with Jerome Gressens, Manitowish, as master of ceremonies. The official welcome was given by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon. Eugene Haessly, president of the local unit, also welcomed the group. Invocation was by the Rev. Robert Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Talks on Jaycee programs and accomplishments on a statewide basis were given by Joseph Kucirek, Wausau, state president; David Dieckman, Green Bay, national director, and Charles Kuehn, Green Bay, international director. State committee chairmen reported on programs, and individual club presidents told of progress during the past three months and future activities.

Clubs represented in addition to Kaukauna were Little Chute, Two Rivers, Plymouth, Sheboygan, Sheboygan Falls, Mishicot, Brillion, Reedsville, and Manitowish.

No action was taken on a request from a representative of the Wauwatosa chapter to have a quarterly meeting of various districts in that city in 1965.

Chairmen for the affair were Milton Cornette and Donald Green.

Harold Mares, representing the corporation which is considering the project, held an informal meeting with the commission.

Mares said he has an option on a 20-acre site to construct the facility which would serve elderly persons requiring ambulatory and skilled care.

He cited the need for additional nursing home facilities between Neenah and Kaukauna and said his group has received certification from the State Board of Health.

Mares indicated he would want the property annexed to the City of Appleton and would cooperate with the city in meeting its requirements. He said if the commission felt the project was not feasible for the site he has in mind, he would drop it at this time.

The nursing home would be known as Colonial Villa of Appleton, being comparable to a home now in operation at Wauwatosa. The proposed building would be one-story with a colonial home-type effect, Mares said.

Representatives of the Department of Public Works attended the meeting and reviewed Mares' plans, but no action was taken by the commission.

Chrysler and GM in Demand

Recovery Trend Continues in Moderate Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler and General Motors were in active demand as the stock market recovery continued early today.

This afternoon in moderately active trading.

Wall Street's worries about a possible auto strike were lessened as the result of postponement by the auto union of the strike deadline to Sept. 9 from about a point on news of its dividend omission.

Both Chrysler and GM opened on sizable blocks and touched new highs.

The aerospace stocks continued their rally, helped additionally by President Johnson's reference to increased defense spending in his speech at the democratic convention.

The Associated Press average by Du Pont, Reynolds Tobacco, of 60 stocks at noon rose 1.0 to Control Data and Liggett & Myers.

2 Charged in Theft at Menasha Beer Depot

OSHKOSH — Richard R. Sawyer, 21, who has no regular address, this morning pleaded guilty of burglary and a presentence investigation was ordered by County Judge James Sarres. Sentencing will be Sept. 18.

Sawyer was charged with breaking into the Prosser Beer Depot on Water Street in Menasha early this morning. He declined the services of a court-appointed attorney and waived preliminary hearing.

Maynard phoned Neenah police and reported his car stolen. Neenah police replied Menasha had the car at the police Prosser Beer Depot. He asked station and wanted to talk to for the appointment of an attorney on the grounds that he is indigent and cannot afford an attorney. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Set for Sept. 4

Judge Sarres set further proceedings in his case for Sept. 4 and set bond at $5,000.

Four cases of beer, seven bottles of whiskey and several cartons of cigarettes were reported taken from the beer depot.

Medical Concern

The congestion has brought some concern from at least six doctors who told police Thursday night that emergency travel to St. Elizabeth Hospital was affected by the traffic on S. Oneida Street.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehn also said routes to be used in fire emergencies have been altered due to the construction. He said the construction has presented problems, but there have been no difficulties as yet because of the lack of serious fire calls.

Crucial times for congestion, police said, have been between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to noon, and between 3 and 6 p.m. Appleton police have advised motorists to seek other ways to travel to their destinations during the construction period and avoid "if at all possible" the congestion area.

Shutoff Necessary

City Works Director Robert Bues today said the Memorial Drive bridge shutoff was necessary due to work being done on either end of the bridge by utility workers laying underground lines. That work will be completed Sept. 8 when the resurfacing will be started at the intersection of Prospect Avenue and Memorial Drive. That intersection is still open for traffic going east and west.

Bues said the Oneida Street bridge has been suggested by the state highway department as the official detour route around the bridge. He said, however, motorists should consider the Lawe Street and College Avenue bridges for alternate routes.

Lutherans Plan Weekend Session Near Clintonville

Nine members of First English Lutheran Church will be attending the weekend training sessions at the Bible Camp at Long Lake near Clintonville beginning Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Niederkorn will be a teacher at this training institute of the Appleton Conference of the American Lutheran Church. Others attending will be Sunday School Superintendent Robert Gauerke, Mrs. William Brinkman, Jerry Byrnes, Bill Day, Barbara Bauer, Jan Kaplan, student Pastor David Kaplan and the Rev. Leonard A. Ziemer.

Courses to be taught at the weekend retreat training session are "Introduction to Church School Teaching," "New Senior High Materials," "Sunday School Administration," "Adult Christian Education" and "The New Junior High School Curriculum." Classes will end at 5:15 p.m. Sunday, followed by the evening meal and a closing service.

Barbershop Singers Return From 3-Day Notre Dame Seminar

Six members of the Appleton and Kaukauna-Little Chute chapters of SPEBSQSA, Inc., recently returned from a three day seminar at the University of Notre Dame campus in South Bend, Ind.

Five courses were offered and each man put in a total of twelve classroom hours in his specialty. The courses were in public relations, chorus directing, judging, and arranging.

Over two hundred barbershop singers from eight midwestern states and Canada attended the school. Notre Dame was but one of three sites included in the nationwide educational program of the Society for the Preservation and Advancement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Buckley, Lorge Disagree About Voting Record

the incumbent is not deserving of re-election. It's my duty," Lorge said, "to prove my record."

Need Strength

Lorge said the Senate Committee on Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking, of which he is chairman, has held up the confirmation of former Milwaukee Mayor Frank Zeidler as director of the State Department of Resource Development and has held up "17 other Reynolds appointments."

"And," he said, "we'll continue to hold them until January when Warren Knowles is elected governor. The positions will be filled by Knowles."

In his prepared talk Buckley said the Republican Party "needs more men in the Legislature who will have records of strength and achievement, not weakness and vacillation."

"Counter-Proposals"

"We need constructive counter-proposals to Democratic schemes and plans," Buckley said, "instead of having legislators who go to Madison just to fill a chair."

Buckley proposed that, when he is elected governor, Knowles should appoint a committee of Wisconsin business and industrial leaders to make a study of "waste and inefficiency in state government."

He said "business will come to a state that has a prosperity."

Buckley pledged to work toward the repeal of the withholding tax, the lowering or reduction of the personal property tax and a program for safer Wisconsin highways to be built from existing revenue sources if he is elected.

Byrnes Hits Democrats For 'Distorting Truth'

leader," Byrnes said, "who advocates divesting the president's authority over the bomb."

"There's a great deal of difference," he said, "between the bomb and allowing military field commanders to have control over certain tactical weapons."

NATO Commanders

"NATO commanders," he said, "should have the authority to use certain tactical weapons in some situations."

Discussing the role of foreign policy in the national campaign, Byrnes said foreign policy "should be a non-partisan affair and should not be a political issue, but when the Democratic Party tries to distort the truth, it's another matter."

"They (the Democrats) are trying to label us a trigger-happy, war party," Byrnes said, "and that's the worse case of the pot calling the kettle black I've ever heard."

"Ridiculous Charge"

The Green Bay Republican challenged the American people to compare the eight years of the Eisenhower administration "with any other time in the 20th Century under a Democratic administration and they will see how ridiculous the Democrats' charge is."

Byrnes also warned against the Democratic administration's "weakening stand against communism."

"I think we all hope the dangers of conflict have passed," Byrnes said, "and I hope that in our lifetimes we'll see that day. But I don't want the American people to be misled into thinking that day has arrived."

'Shaky Ground'

"The mere hope which the Democrats talk about is shaky ground," Byrnes said, "on which to build the edifice of national security."

"Republican policy is not based on belligerency, but on caution and the lessons of history."

"When the communists tear down the Berlin Wall, break the Iron Curtain, stop 'wars of national liberation' and end subversion in South America, then we Republicans will begin to think that maybe there is a real change."

"Our real need," Byrnes said, "is superior strength, not equal strength. It is accommodation and vaccination that brings on war, not strong opposition."

"And," he said, "under our present administration, we've been losing not only strength, but respect as well."

Ask Change in Payment of City Workers

Appleton Employees Would Get Checks Every Two Weeks

Salaried employees of the City of Appleton should be paid bi-weekly, the council's finance committee recommended Thursday night.

The employees are paid semi-monthly, resulting in 24 pay periods a year.

Under the new policy, employees would get their paychecks every other Friday, resulting in 26 pay periods.

Investigate Insurance

The committee also received a letter from Police Chief Earl O. Wolff asking the city to investigate the State Group Life Insurance Plan.

Teachers and firemen have also expressed interest in the plan.

The city is in the process of reviewing its employee insurance program.

man, supervisor on the county board and farmer, outlined his history as a county board supervisor and said, "Should I be elected to the State Assembly, I want you to know that I'm fully against the personal property tax, and for the preservation of our natural resources."

And I'm happy to say that most of the natural resources in Outagamie County are in the new Third District."

Conradt said he would support legislation to give Wisconsin better highways and to give all the people a better education.

"And," he concluded, "I will do all I can to see that when we spend a tax dollar, we get 100 cents worth of goods in return."

Outlines Crises

Gillespie, a Town of Grand Chute landscape architect, outlined three crises which he said "are facing the American people today."

"First," he said, "is a financial crisis. With government spending more and more, people are demanding more and more. Government should let people do as much for themselves as they can."

"Next," Gillespie said, "we are facing a moral crisis." He said the public is being influenced by the lives of Teamster president James Hoffa and the former U.S. Senate majority secretary Bobby Baker.

"And last, he said, 'we are facing a spiritual crisis. Our most important weapons against Communism are our spiritual values.'"

Mares, an Appleton supervisor on the county board, an insurance salesman and a raiser of purebred hogs on his father's New London farm, cited his background of majoring in political science at the University of Wisconsin and said "I am a student of government on all levels."

He said none of the Third Assembly District candidates have enough experience to discuss the issues. "We're all conservative Republicans," he said, "and we have to convince you, which one of us could best represent the district."

He said he knows "the problem of trying to reduce spending which the engineering department has made a requirement for civil and mechanical engineering and mechanics majors: physiology, for the sophomore nursing program; a political science course in comparative government, and social psychology, a sophomore course for sociology, social work and psychology majors."

The music department, which since last year has offered all freshmen School of Music courses, will have courses in fundamentals of pianoforte, music theory for elementary education teachers, first year theory for music majors and music appreciation.

All UW courses have been re-numbered this year to facilitate use of data processing equipment for student records.

Special Scholarships

Lila Locksmith, a student adviser, said many of the new freshmen placed first or near the top of their high school graduating class and many are entering on special scholarships.

The center's first summer school session was "a big success," Imhoff said. A total of 105 students were enrolled, classes were small, ranging from seven to 16 students, and grades were high, he said.

"We are confident the response to the summer session will be greater next year," he said.

German Class Possible at AVS

Persons interested in taking an evening class in conversational German have been asked to contact the Appleton Vocational and Adult School by Di-vote and (Gov. Gaylord) Nelson rector Carl Bertram.

Bertram said several persons have shown interest in studying German, and a class will be organized if enough students are interested. A minimum of about a dozen students would be needed, he said.

The class would be designed to enable persons who want to travel to carry on a conversation in a German-speaking country, he said.

New Teachers

The center will have 48 faculty members, including the administration and the urban team.

New teachers will be Dr. Carl Mason, a former faculty member, anthropology; Huntley C. Lewis, replacing Ronald Gray, new assistant to the director, chemistry; John W. Rabby, replacing Blanche Swindell, English; Mrs. Carol Halversen, who has an interim appointment as project assistant to replace librarian Douglas Harms; Charles Hurst, replacing Ravindra Lal, sociology; Walter Sadler, mathematics; Joseph Conlin, history; William King, art, and Robert Gandre, geography.

Course Additions

New courses this fall will include an engineering drawing course which the engineering department has made a requirement for civil and mechanical engineering and mechanics majors: physiology, for the sophomore nursing program; a political science course in comparative government, and social psychology, a sophomore course for sociology, social work and psychology majors.

The music department, which since last year has offered all freshmen School of Music courses, will have courses in fundamentals of pianoforte, music theory for elementary education teachers, first year theory for music majors and music appreciation.

"Keppler," Lorge said, "informed me that my record on these votes was over 90 per cent. And, from my own records, my voting record on bills is near 100 per cent."

Vote Made It Tie

Lorge also said Buckley's statement on the withholding tax vote was untrue. "My vote made it a tie," he said, "and Warren Knowles (then lieutenant governor) cast the deciding vote and (Gov. Gaylord) Nelson vetoed it."

Testimony Conflicts in Last Day of Labor Dispute Hearing

foreman whenever he (Langdok) left the shop.

Toppins told of an April 22 meeting with employees and a subsequent argument with Burt over wage rates paid by other firms in the area. Toppins said that night he recounted his problems with Burt and decided he would fire him.

Toppins said he knew nothing of Burt's union activities, and that he predicated his action on the employee's work record.

Toppins said he was reluctant to fire any employee and could not remember the last time he did.

After he received a letter from Local 563 advising him several employees joined the union and bargaining should commence, Toppins testified he went out into the shop with it and talked to the men.

Statements Differ

Toppins claimed the men indicated to him they thought signing union cards meant they were requesting an election and the Teamsters had not been designated as their bargaining agent. Toppins felt he should not bargain until there was an election.

Under cross examination, Toppins admitted he would not have talked to the men if he had not received the union notice. When he could not recall some statements made at the meeting, Toppins was shown an affidavit he signed in May, some differing with his testimony.

At one point, the examiner directed Miller to refrain from insulting the witness during a flurry of questioning. Earlier in the day, attorney Urban Van Susteren, representing the company, was advised not to "lead" a witness by "putting words in his mouth."

"Fishing Expedition"

Toppins also testified he did not discuss with the union the salary fringe benefit increases given employees in July after a complaint and amended complaint had been issued against the company.

Van Susteren called on Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Local 563, requesting him to produce the book from which a receipt had been issued Burt when he paid his union fee April 21.

Miller objected strenuously, accusing Van Susteren of being "on a fishing expedition." Miller said the union receipt had been produced as evidence and that union records were not at issue in the proceedings.

An arrangement was worked out, agreeable to counsel for both sides, to permit the examiner but no one else to examine the receipt book. He did and returned it to Schlieve.

Both sides waived oral arguments at the conclusion of testimony.

Dave Wins Two Awards; Sommer Takes Hurling Prize

There were awards galore at Goodland Field Thursday night as the annual "Player Appreciation Night" was held at the final home game of the season for the Fox Cities Foxes.

Dave May walked off with the major share of the trophies. The fleet-footed outfielder received trophies for being voted the team's most valuable player and also won the top hitter award. In addition, general manager Ralph Mueller presented May with a watch which was symbolic of Dave's being chosen as Midwest League player of the month during June.

Other awards went to Henry King and Fred Beene as the top relief pitchers, John Matias, most popular player; Bob Lewandowski, sportsman's hip award; Fred Rico, rookie of the year; Tim Sommer, most valuable John Matias, of the Fox Cities Foxes, was safe at first base on this play in the last of the sixth inning at Goodland Field Thursday night. The throw got away from Marv Lotz, first baseman for the Wisconsin Rapids Twins.

The Braves backed the impressive three-hit pitching of right-hander Hank Fischer with a 16-hit attack Thursday night and whipped the San Francisco Giants 13-0. Rico Carty and Lee Maye collected home runs.

The victory was the third in four games for the Braves so far in their current home stand and lifted them to within three games of the third-place Giants.

Foxes Lose Finale Of Home Season

Twins Rally To Notch 3-2 Victory

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Fox Cities Foxes pennant express was derailed momentarily, at least, at Goodland Field Thursday night when the Wisconsin Rapids Twins pulled out a 3-2 victory in a Midwest League thriller.

The Foxes went into their final home game of the 1964 season needing only a victory or a loss by Quad Cities to clinch the second round title.

However, both possibilities failed to materialize as the Twins bunched three of their five hits in the seventh inning for three runs, enough for a win. In the meantime, Quad Cities tipped Decatur, 5-1, to keep its shaky pennant hopes alive.

Start Road Trip

The Foxes now embark on a road trip that will close out the campaign. Tonight, they will open a 2-day stand at Cedar Rapids and then close out the regular schedule with a double-header at Wisconsin Rapids Sunday afternoon. One victory in any of the four remaining games, or a loss by Quad Cities, will give the Foxes the crown and the right to meet first round champion Clinton in a 1-game playoff Tuesday night at Clinton.

Ed Petryshyn set the Twins down with little trouble through the first six innings Thursday night, and his mates scored a go-ahead run in the last of the sixth. However, the lead was short-lived as Wisconsin Rapids came to life in the top of the seventh.

Jim Sevcik started things off for the Twins with a single up the middle. His brother John worked Petryshyn for a walk, and John Counsel beat out a bunt to load the bases with one out. Dale Romeberg drew a walk to force in the tying run and the Twins still had the bases jammed.

Perfect Bunt

Marv Lotz fanned for the first out and the Foxes infield dropped back for a double play. Ken Gilbert crossed up the strategy by placing a perfect bunt down the third base line which he beat out as another run score. Rick Peterson, the Twins' hurler, grounded into a force play and what proved to be the winning run crossed the plate on the out. Pat Kelly grounded out to end the inning, but the Twins

White Sox Suffer 5-2 Loss to Twins; Open Vital Set With Orioles

Detroit, Angels Score AL Wins; Adcock Homers

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The script has changed sharply for Hank Fischer, but the Baltimore Orioles hope there aren't any alterations in it for them.

Fischer, who had failed to last two innings in each of his previous four starts, pitched a three-hitter as Milwaukee pummeled San Francisco 13-0 Thursday night.

The American League-leading Orioles were idle, but they open a vital four-game series tonight with the Chicago White Sox whose 5-2 loss to Minnesota Thursday put them one-half game behind the Orioles.

The teams played a four-game series last weekend, with Baltimore winning three times and moving from one-half game behind the White Sox to 1 1/2 in front. The upcoming four games—two tonight and one each Saturday and Sunday—will be the last between the contenders. Baltimore holds an 8-6 edge.

Quick Edge

Milwaukee gave Fischer a quick edge against the Giants, and the 24-year-old right-hander used it to great advantage.

In those previous four starts, Fischer didn't give the Braves a chance to build a lead for him.

He was battered for 18 runs in four innings in the appearances, running from Aug. 2 through Aug. 15. Chicago rocked him for four runs in 1 2/3 innings. Cincinnati scored four in one-third of an inning. Los Angeles erupted for five in one-third and San Francisco took 1 2/3 to score five times.

The game was the only one in the National League. In other American League games, Detroit nipped Boston 5-4, and Los Angeles bombed Kansas City 7-1.

Jimmie Hall scored the tie-breaking run in the Twins' ninth on a double steal and a throwing error by Chicago catcher J.C. Martin. Hall had singled and advanced to second on a walk to Bob Allison. When the runners

Bay Rookies to Get Thorough Test Saturday

Packers Must Cut Four More Players To Reach NFL Limit

GREEN BAY (AP)—Saturday night is the most miserable night of the week for Green Bay Packers during the National Football League exhibition season.

Monday's decisions and Tuesday's cuts generally are based on the performances in the Saturday night games.

The Packers have a dozen rookies remaining on the squad of 44 and Coach Vince Lombardi plans a thorough check of the candidates in this Saturday night's game. The Packers will be in Dallas for a meeting with the Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl.

All NFL teams must trim to 40 players by the season opener on Sept. 13, so the Packers must cut four more players within the next two weeks.

Veterans are Pushed

The Packers rookies include some top prospects, which means some of the veterans are being pushed and could start the season some place else.

Bidding for jobs are offensive tackle Steve Wright of Alabama and offensive tackle John McDowell of St. John's of Minnesota. They and center Ken Bowman of Wisconsin could provide future help in a line that averages over 30 years of age.

Bob Long of the University of Wichita is an offensive end candidate with good hands and good speed. But he played in only seven collegiate games and has a lot to learn.

Dennis Claridge from Nebraska is a Paul Hornung type runner. Originally the Packers planned on him for a running assignment, but now are thinking that he could develop into a quarterback of the future. He can throw, he's big and can move.

A running back candidate is Dwain Bean from North Texas State. He runs hard, keeps his

Ankerson Will Learn Army Status Soon

NEENAH — The St. Louis football Cardinals, in an Associated Press release from Lake Forest, Ill., today reported that Neenah's Jack Ankerson has been called to active duty by the Army, but the first-year quarterback is at his home here awaiting further developments.

Ankerson, who hasn't been cut and is still the property of the Cardinals, hasn't actually heard from the army but expects to go to Ripon Monday to learn his status. He was in the ROTC at Ripon College from where he was graduated last June.

He has been in contact with Cardinal officials, and when he does report for service it will be for two years.

Liston Escapes Injury In Auto Accident

DENVER (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston escaped injury late Thursday when a car in which he was riding struck a parked car, police said.

Liston said he was asleep when the accident occurred. Mary D. Gonerway, 33, of Denver, who said she was driving the car, suffered a head laceration.

Why is this small, modest-looking and rather expensive car so much in demand?

You'll never really know until you drive one. But, since we rarely have more than a few Porsches on hand, please call to let us know when you are coming.

What's more, says the Colum- bia Broadcasting System, if it doesn't come out right, they'll pull out of the whole affair.

"We will, of course, abide by the decision of such a meeting," CBS board chairman William S. Paley wrote Yankee co-owner Dan Topping.

"And we would like to make this absolutely clear: if the league wishes to disavow the transaction and is opposed to our admission as a member, the sooner we know it, the better. For we would never wish to enter baseball or any other field under such circumstances.

Prompted Meeting

Just what prompted the meet- ing is questionable.

Paley, in his letter to Topping asked that "a meeting of the league members be called for this purpose as soon as possi- ble."

The Yankees, in a formal statement, said Topping "wish- es to make it known that Presi- dent Cronin has acceded to his request that a meeting be called to resolve any possible doubt as to the validity of the transfer."

And, in Chicago, Arthur Allyn, president of the White Sox and an outspoken critic of the sale, suggested the meeting was called as a result of a telegram he had his lawyer send to the American League counsel, Ben Fier.

Joe Cronin, American League president who had once declined to call such a meeting, said it was his own idea.

"I feel it is in the best interest of the league and of all its mem- bers that such a meeting be held," he said Thursday.

Unitas, Baltimore Dump Washington

Veteran Quarterback Hits on Two Touchdown Passes in 41-14 Romp

BY BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's Redskins are supposed to be a new look outfit. But they've won only one of four, which is not new. This is a bad thing.

Baltimore, on the other hand, has an old look. Like Johnny Unitas. He's looking like the old Johnny Unitas. This is a very good thing.

Unitas, guiding light in Balti- more's National Foot ball League championship years in 1958 and 1959, had all the marks of the Unitas of that era Thurs- day night as he directed the Colts to a 41-14 exhibition rout of the Redskins.

Unitas, one of the most feared passers in the game, connected on two touchdown passes and engineered another drive against the Redskins, whose two previous losses had been by a single point.

Sellout Crowd

A sellout crowd of 45,016 jammed into D.C. Stadium in Washington for the game and saw Unitas get the defensive help that was lacking last season in the game that opened a full, 11-game weekend exhibi- tion schedule for the major pros.

Four more games are sched- uled tonight — two each in the National and American Football Leagues — and six are on tap Saturday.

Unitas, who led the NFL in completions with a record 237 and in passing yardage with 3,- 481 last season, was the big show against the Redskins. He completed 16 or 35 passes for 251 yards, including a 71- yard touchdown toss to John Mackay and a 24-yard scoring strike to Lennie Moore.

And the Baltimore defense, troubled only by Redskin rookie

Charley Taylor, put on a fierce rush that harassed quarter- backs George Izo and Dick Shiner unmercifully.

The rush resulted in two inter- ceptions. Lennie Lyles returning a Shiner pass for 57 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter and Bobbie Boyd running back another for 34 yards and a touchdown in the fourth.

Put On Show

Taylor, however, put on the show that big crowd was hoping for. The rookie running back ripped off 60 yards in 12 tries for the only bright spot for the team that upset defending Eastern Conference champion New York last week.

The top game tonight has the St. Louis Cardinals and defend- ing champion Chicago Bears, each with a 2-1 record, playing in Chicago. Both have played Green Bay, the Cards winning 20-7 and the Bears losing 21-7. The Cards hope to have John David Crow ready for the first time this season, while the Bears will have Jon Arnett, ac- quired this week from Los An- geles, in action for the first time. A crowd of over 55,000 is expected.

Detroit, unbeaten but once tied, is expected to use ex- Brown Milt Plum against Cleve- land in the Lions' home game. The Browns, now 2-1 and again getting stand-out running from Jimmy Brown, will have quart- erback Frank Ryan back in ac- tion. Ryan sat out last week's 42-7 victory over Pittsburgh with a sore shoulder.

In the American League, Bos- ton's Patriots, defending Eastern Division champions, will try to snap a nine-game exhibition losing string at Buffalo, 1-2, while Denver, with new quarter- back Jack Lee, plays Kansas

Olson still wishes he were fighting Pastrano. The same is true of Thornton who thought he might have earned a title bout with his recent upset of top ranked Eddie Cotton. Bobo, the former middle weight king, whipped Thornton decisively last March in their first meeting. Since then, how- ever, Olson lost to Johnny Per-sol who previously was stopped by Cotton. Since Thornton beat Cotton, this return fight against the 36-year-old Olson rates as a toss-up. A pro since 1945, Olson has a 88-14-2 record including 40 knockouts. He is ranked seventh among the 175-pounders by the World Boxing Association and sixth by Ring Magazine. Thornton, 25, is ranked second by the WBA and fifth by Ring with a record of 31-6-1 including 19 knockouts.

McHale Says He Knows Nothing of Atlanta TV Sponsorship Meeting

Advertising Man Approaches Firm Seeking Sponsor

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee president John McHale said Thursday night he knew nothing about a meeting at which an Atlanta, Ga., advertising representative said he had been sent to discuss radio and television sponsorship of Braves games on a network in Georgia and surrounding states.

He also said he and Smith were not at all sure the company would be interested because the radio and television networks would extend into the Carolinas and Tennessee, where the company has no outlets.

McHale said, "We have no knowledge of this. I don't know Mr. Wyatt and I don't know Mr. Smith. We are involved in no meetings. We deny it."

McHale made the statement in his County Stadium box as the Braves were crushing the San Francisco Giants 13-0.

A crowd of 12,127 kept him Journal wrote that advertising company, and boosted season man Burton E. Wyatt was in attendance to 773,018, just 1,783 Louisville to talk with William Smith, president of Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky.

Wyatt was quoted as saying, "I have been asked by men, representing the Braves to meet with them in Atlanta this week-end to discuss sponsorship of a radio and television setup in Georgia and surrounding states."

Starr Has Fingers Crossed 'Love to Block' Claims Bays' Top Quarterback

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service

DALLAS—It was first down and 10 yards to go on the Packer early in the third quarter, firing out of the pocket and running like a halfback when the Bears by 14 to zero.

Bart Starr took the snap from center Bob Skoronski and rammed the ball into Paul Hornung's tummy. Hornung swung to his right and the Bear defense flowed to its left to stop what appeared to be an obvious right-side run.

Suddenly, Hornung whirled and handed the ball off to Jim Taylor, quickly, you saw two groups of people hurrying past each other in opposite directions—The Packers going to their left and the Bears moving to their left.

Guards Jerry Kramer and "Fuzzy" Thurston, who hesitated momentarily at the snap, pulled out along with Starr and formed a threesome of blockers in front of Taylor who sailed around the left end for a handsome gain of 15 yards.

Along with Starr?

"Yes," Bart smiled the other day, "that's the one play us quarterbacks have to get out in the pres box. Upstairs and block on just like any other player. It's our reverse play."

The execution was perfect and result proves it.

Open-field blocking isn't easy for anybody—even people like the guards and halfbacks and the fullbacks, who do it most every play, let alone the quarterback who might get to throw a block a dozen times a season.

"I just love to block," Starr laughed, with his fingers crossed.

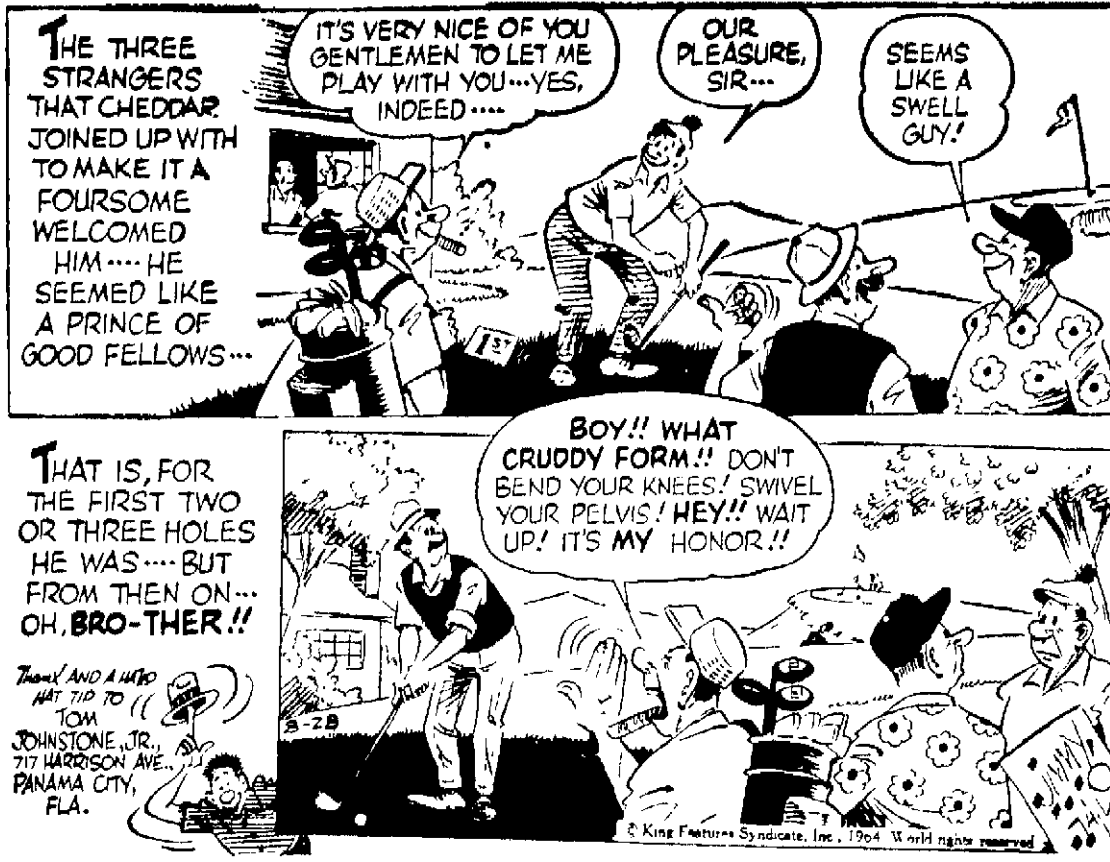

Incidentally, Starr has been firing out of the pocket and running like a halfback when the receivers are completely covered. Bart has been credited with nine rushing attempts in the first three games already—for 33 yards. Two were for 10-yard plus runs for key first downs.

The Packers flew down here this morning in their chartered United Airlines plane. Headquarters at the Ramada Inn, the Packers worked out at the Cotton Bowl this afternoon. Kickoff Saturday against the Cowboys is 9:05 (WJPG).

Norm Masters and Bob Skoronski are playing their first "full" games since 1962. They alternated last year at left tackle but now Masters is playing left tackle and Skoronski center. Each has put in three games thus far and Masters says "it's much easier and not as tiring sitting on the bench half the time as before."

The Packers are experiencing with closed circuit television in the pres box. Upstairs coaches Norb Hecker, Red Cochran and Tom Fears have a video tape machine in front of them as they watch the game and then, when necessary, the tape can be played back. The coaches keep in touch with the coaches on the sidelines. Vince Lombardi, Phil Bengtson and Bill Austin, by telephone.

THE NEW MERCS ARE 50% QUIETER ...so quiet, they sound like they're far behind your boat

New silence from SOUND engineering
Mercury engineering has developed a new silencing system that makes the new Mercs sound like they're far away. The new four- and six-cylinder Mercs are actually 50% quieter.

Anyone can silence a motor by wrapping enough fat padding around it, but we didn't want to sacrifice Merc's slim, trim lines... or performance. Merc's silencing system required re-designing, new engineering... from top to bottom. Here's how we did it:

- New Mercs have a sound capsule coating metal, not plastic, that is elastically isolated from both the powerhead and the drive shaft housing. This fire-proof coating does not "broadcast" the sound from the engine.
- All connections for control cables and fuel hoses are inside the capsule and the openings are sealed with neoprene closures. The sound from the powerhead is effectively trapped inside the coating.
- Mercury used a completely new principle... a wall of water... to silence the exhaust. The engine's discharged cooling water is used to surround Merc's new internal exhaust pipe and prevent exhaust noise from escaping through the drive shaft housing.
- This same wall of water, pressing against the sides of the drive shaft housing, damps out the sound resulting from mechanical vibration.
- Mercury's exclusive Jet-Prop was all-important to this new silencing system. Exhaust gases and sound are now carried directly from the powerhead, down the internal exhaust pipe and out through the Jet-Prop... where they are unceremoniously burned deep underwater.
- Merc's Dyna-Float, aircraft-type suspension system keeps vibration from passing through the clamp brackets to the boat.
- And to top it off, the new Mercs have an elastically isolated steering arm to prevent sound from traveling out through the steering mechanism to the boat.
- Yes, the new Mercs are 50% quieter but it couldn't have been done with an ordinary outboard. It had to start with the engine:
- In-line 4- and 6-cylinder design with inherent smooth balance.
- Small bore and short stroke with smaller and lighter pistons, connecting rods and wrist pins for lower disturbing forces.
- Offset wrist pins that eliminate piston slap.
- Smaller parts with tighter fits throughout the engine.
- Power-Dome combustion chambers that "quish" the fuel-air mixture and smooth out combustion roughness.
- Flex-plate flywheels that reduce the normal working noises of the crankshaft.
- Internal reed valves... sealed inside the crankcase to make them quiet.
- Full-Jeweled construction throughout the engine.

More power from SOUND engineering
The silencing of the Merc is just part of the news for 1965. Mercury has a brand new 90 hp outboard...

Democrats of Two Minds About Fall Election Outcome

Some Admit to Worry Over Possibility of 'Backlash'

BY LARRY OSIUS
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democratic leaders are leaving this convention city expressing optimism — and some caution — about the party's chances in the November election.

Some admit to worry over the possibility of a white "backlash" against Negro demonstrations and the Civil Rights Act.

That is particularly true among leaders from Southern states. Several from that area could see the Johnson-Humphrey ticket's prospects as no better than even, if that much.

And some of the Southerners expect local and state candidates to run separately from the national ticket.

Of the leaders of 37 states contacted by The Associated Press during the convention, 18 placed their states solidly in the Johnson-Humphrey corner in November. They are Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Tears Glisten As Kennedy Faces Crowd

Memorial Service At Convention for Former President

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Tears glistened in the eyes of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as he faced the cheering thousands.

He stood solemn and silent during the 13-minute emotional outburst touched off when he went before the Democratic National Convention Thursday night to honor the memory of his brother, the assassinated President John F. Kennedy.

There were no balloons, no gimmicks, no rousing band music to spur the delegates to action. There was only an outpouring of emotion.

These are Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming.

Backlash Big Question

The states in which the Democratic chances were rated at no better than even — or were not rated — are Nebraska, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia.

GOP Needs Million Votes, Seating Problem Is Story of Convention

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wilbur Renk, the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, blasted the record of Sen. William Proxmire Thursday night, saying that only six of 101 bills introduced by the Democratic incumbent have been passed by the Senate.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — You wouldn't think that the world's largest hall, capable of seating 40,000, would have a seating problem. But that, in essence, was the story of the 1964 Democratic National Convention.

graphers that the Democrats installed right in front of the speaker's platform. A legally seated delegate didn't see anything except maybe President Johnson's eyebrow on the huge wall portrait.

Little Difference

This made little difference. No delegate ever got to sit down. They were all over the Mississippi delegation, where the aisles got so clogged the delegates began walking out.

The major costs are being borne by the Wally Byam Foundation and the Ford Motor Co. The foundation is furnishing the department with three house trailers for two years and Ford is providing three automobiles to tow the trailers at an annual cost of $1,000. The foundation is supplying gasoline and oil for the cars, the State Department said.

In San Francisco, Johnson will turn the car and trailer over to another Foreign Service officer who will drive his family on the return trip east while the Johnsons will fly back to Washington to prepare for a new assignment, in Brussels, Belgium.

Getting Acquainted American Diplomat Is Motoring Across U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Join the Foreign Service and see the U.S.A.?

It's working out that way for 42-year-old Richard G. Johnson, a senior U.S. Foreign Service officer who left with his wife and two children Thursday on a motor trip to San Francisco sponsored by the State Department.

Announcing the tour, the department said the only cost for Johnson, who is home on leave, will be for food, highway toll charges and incidentals.

Make Speeches

Along the way, while renewing his acquaintance with this country, he will make speeches explaining the work of the Foreign Service.

Bomb Explodes Near Gas Storage Tanks

SINGAPORE (AP) — A bomb exploded Thursday 20 feet from a gasoline storage tank in the American-owned Esso terminal on Bukom Island, five miles from Singapore, police reported today.

Senate Candidate

Robert Kennedy, who is now a candidate for the U.S. Senate from New York, stood with head bowed while the wave of noise swept over him while he waited to introduce a film portraying highlights of his brother's brief years as President.

Seven times Kennedy sought to begin his speech, but could get no farther than "Mr. Chairman." Each attempt touched off a swelling roar from the throats of the thousands of delegates and spectators that carried the tumult ever higher.

Renk said he had shaken 395,000 hands since he began his campaign in February, and added, "I'm not giving up 10 months out of my life just to exercise my vocal cords. I'm going to be elected to the Senate and bring Wisconsin back into the Union."

He also said that shaking hands was not a standard for measuring a senator. "The effectiveness and influence in the Senate," Renk said.

Dominic Frinzi, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, criticized Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds Thursday for setting up a governor's council on the arts without providing it with a "realistic budget."

Frinzi told a Milwaukee meeting the council was set up a year ago but without a proper budget, agenda or schedule of meetings and activities.

State government has been crippled, according to Warren Knowles, the endorsed Republican candidate for governor, by what he called a revenue gap created by three Democratic administrations.

The result, Knowles said at Darlington has been the "downgrading, postponement or elimination of worthwhile and essential programs."

With Hubert Humphrey playing head usher, the committee finally decided to seat only loyal Alabamians, to let all the Mississippi regulars sit down and to award two at-large Mississippi seats to the Freedom Democrats, but these happened to be so far back in the bus they were actually in the Alaska section.

This seating solution may have helped Humphrey win the big seat next to Johnson on the party band wagon, but it only seemed to confuse and enrage everyone else.

Eugene (Bull) Connor and the Alabama delegates took their seats anyway with a mixture of rebel yells and unidentified oaths that may or may not have had something to do with loyalty. Three of the regular Mississippians sat down, but the rest walked out. While they were gone, a group of Negroes supporting the Freedom faction surged into the hall and took the seats. At this, the remaining

Hopes and Ideals

As Kennedy spoke of the hopes and ideals that sustained his brother during his three years as President, and of his pride in the Democratic party, many delegates wept.

Even more handkerchiefs appeared during the film that followed, especially at the end when President Kennedy was shown playing with his children and taking part in happy family activities.

Typical of those forecasting a big victory for President Johnson was Gov. Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware.

"Johnson will carry Delaware bigger than has any other Democratic nominee," he said.

"If the candidate were anyone but Johnson, he might lose Oklahoma," said a former governor, Raymond Gray. "But the people will vote for Johnson because he is a neighbor — a Texan."

Even Arizona Democrats are talking victory. Sam Goddard, former state chairman, now running for governor, said a poll ordered by the Democrats showed Johnson leading 6 to 4 in the home state of Barry Goldwater, GOP presidential nominee.

The basic cause of our fiscal dilemma," he continued, "is the revenue gap that has developed during the last three Democratic administrations when the rate of increase in state spending began rapidly to outrun our rate of economic growth and revenue."

Forecasts Tough Fight

But the optimism is tempered with caution.

Frank Keller, Washington state chairman, says it is "a hard fight and getting harder every day."

Gov. Donald Russell of South Carolina says, "the situation will be close" with Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee, now benefitting from anti-civil rights feeling.

Louis Hanson, Wisconsin state chairman, put it this way: "Johnson's coat-tails will be very attractive to Democratic candidates down to the courthouse level."

Viet Nam Battle Omitted in Thoughts Of Fallen Kennedy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

ATLANTIC CITY—As one sat listening to the emotional memorial for a few departed statesmen of recent years, so solemnly presented as a part of the last day's session of the Democratic National Convention, there came to mind sad thoughts about some other Americans who seem to have been forgotten on this all-important occasion.

For the omitted memorial concerns those 275 American boys who have died in the conflict in Viet Nam since 1961.

What shall be said to the mothers and fathers, the sisters and brothers, the wives and children of the brave soldiers who gave their lives to a cause nobody here has thought to honor even momentarily with silent prayer? Maybe American sacrifices in the war in Viet Nam have never been particularly related in the public mind to our own safety. Indeed, there are many people who think the loss of lives in Viet Nam has in truth been in vain.

But even as the convention delegates enjoyed their carnival here on the convention floor, waving banners and tooting horns and otherwise manifesting their exuberant spirits, so by contrast, in the homes of those 275 American soldiers, there must have been the very opposite feeling—a questioning as to how many parents of other young men now in uniform may someday suffer the same anguish and heartbreak. There are at least 17,000 American troops in Viet Nam today.

Touches Many
Unlike most of the issues so flamboyantly proclaimed in campaign phrases, the problem of what is or is not a sensible foreign policy touches closely the homes of millions of American citizens with sons of draft age. This, however, is typical of political strategy. The boast in high-sounding speeches always is that peace will be preserved and war avoided, that prosperity will be maintained and a depression averted. The exhortation is that the candidates named here should be accepted as men not only of great wisdom but of unbounded experience in the handling of national and international questions.

Both President Johnson and Sen. Humphrey are earnest, able and dedicated men who would like to serve their country effectively. So also are Sen. Goldwater and Rep. Miller, the nominees on the Republican ticket. All politicians claim these virtues. The test is whether the candidates, upon election to office, yield to the temptations of expediency because votes may be at stake again. Few politicians are willing to go down fighting for a cause when the principle is unpalatable, though sound. If by chance votes in the next election may be imperiled, ambition too often outweighs all else.

The platform and the acceptance speeches presented here make promises of economic betterment and of benefits for all citizens, including those who happen to be earning low incomes or are among the unemployed. But what do these national and international questions, saturated by tens of thousands of words of publicity, really mean to the citizens, and how will they affect the lives of the ordinary voters?

Promise Utopia

To overcome fears and doubts and apprehensions, public speakers today use the same devices that have won elections time and again. Utopia is promised, and when adverse tides start turning, the opposition is, of course, blamed.

The two national political conventions are over. It has been demonstrated here as many times before that a president in office can bring about his own nomination for a succeeding term because he has behind him hundreds of thousands of officeholders and direct beneficiaries of public funds. Lately he has assumed the added prerogative of choosing the vice president, the man who may become president if a vacancy occurs in the highest office in effect, one man now picks a possible future president of the United States, and too often he does so with an eye to political advantages for himself. This tactic is received nevertheless with outbursts of prolonged applause in the convention hall and maybe in millions of homes, where the television broadcasts are too much concerned with the picture story to

Baby's Sex Identity Is Still in Nature's Hands

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I am a young woman with three daughters. I have been told that if you use either an acid or alkali douche you can control the sex of the baby. I would like to have a boy next time. Is there any truth in what I have been told?
—MRS. J. H.

Dr. Molner

Dear Doctor: Please tell me who determines the sex of a baby?—Y. A.

There are all sorts of theories about controlling the sex of a baby but for practical purposes, it is still something that has to be left to chance—and perhaps this is just as well.

It depends on the chromosome pattern. The female cells contain what is described as an XX pattern of chromosomes; male cells are of an XY pattern.

When the male sperm fertilizes the female ovum, the sex of the child-to-be must depend on whether an X or a Y pattern is taken from the father: from the mother there can be only an X.

Male Pattern

Since the male pattern is XY, in the long run there will be approximately as many of one as of the other—a more or less equal number of girls and boys. We might say, from this, that the father "determines the sex of the baby." But it is really more accurate to say that nature, or chance, or whatever, really does the determining, because there is nothing the father can do about it.

As I said, there are theories about how, perhaps, something might possibly be done to influence the resulting pattern of XX or XY in the chromosomes. Practically, however, there is no evidence that these theories have any effect. Inscrutable nature goes her own way, regardless.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am supposed to have varicose veins "stripped" from both legs soon. The doctor says I'll probably lose my legs if I don't. Is this possible? I have seen some worse than mine and they have not been told this.

My family has a history of these legs. No doubt I would be one of those who would have the "new veins" become bad, too. The operation wouldn't seem so pointless if we could afford it. I am 39.

I enclose the required 20 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for your booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins."—MRS. S.

Your doctor is in a far better position than I am to judge how seriously your varicose veins have interfered with circulation reveal the penetrating truths underneath it all.

The main pitch of this convention was on domestic issues, and the chief argument expressed was that the Republicans are old-fashioned and that thrift is obsolete. Government is expected to go on spending public funds to win votes, even as the budget remains unbalanced and the value of the dollar continues its perilous course downward.

Conventions, unfortunately, provide few answers to public questions. Nor do they point the way to solutions of the complex problems of modern life. Now that both conventions have been held, the campaign, with its misleading dialogue, is about to begin—and in November the question will be which party has done the better job of "brainwashing" the electorate.

Nationwide Poll

Farmers Will 'Bare Their Souls' for 18th Agricultural Census

Post-Crescent Farm Editor

Fox Valley area farmers and their counterparts across the nation can prepare to "bare their souls" to the census taker. The Department of Commerce is in the process of organizing details for the exhaustive 1964 census of agriculture. The 18th since 1840, it will be conducted in November and December. The census will probe into almost every conceivable facet of agriculture. The massive questionnaire starts off like every other, with question No. 1—What is your name? Some 355 questions later it asks the date the questionnaire was completed.

Have TV?

But in between it asks the farmer about the acres, bushels, head, gallons, dollars, units, pounds and about every other area of agricultural measurement. Even "do you have a television set?"

The farmer will be asked to list his debts and his revenues and if emotions could be converted into statistics his joys and sorrows.

Major divisions making up the questionnaire deal with:

Person in charge, owned land, rented or leased land, land managed for others, land leased to others, acreage, location, corn, sorghum, soybeans, small grains, hay and grass silage, field seeds, field crops, vegetables, berries, fruits, nuts and grapes, nursery and greenhouse products, including flowers.

Other Crops

Other crops, cropland, woodland, other land, irrigation, forest products, his grace, age, off-farm work, recreation, revenue, poultry, sheep, lambs, hogs and pigs, sows and gilts, cattle and calves, milk, cows, milk and cream sold, other animals sold.

Contracts, equipment, facilities, fertilizer and lime, sprays and dusts, land use practices, population, expenditures, farm values and real estate debt.

In all areas, the census taking will be carried out by local people working as enumerators.

They will be recruited in every agricultural county of the United States, and testing and hiring will be done by local people hired as "crew leaders" in September and October.

Crew Leaders

As soon as he has completed his training, each crew leader will announce that he is prepared to receive applications from prospective enumerators.

Appointment of crew leaders will be announced by the Census Bureau's 12 regional offices.

About 23,000 enumerators, supervised by 11,000 crew leaders, will be needed to visit all the nation's farms, about 3,500,000 of them in more than 3,000 counties of every state and in Puerto Rico.

Each enumerator applicant must take a preliminary census test of ability to understand instructions and to read maps. The candidates who are hired will train themselves in census procedures and the Census of Agriculture questions through a home-study course, expected to require 12 to 16 hours spread over a period of four days. Another test will follow the study period.

Outagamie Tops Goals in Soil, Water Conservation

New Safety Recommendations concerning farm machinery on the highways have recently been made by state safety specialists but a Chilton farmer has his own plan. Earl Lintner, route 3, has long had to travel on U. S. 151 to get to some of his fields and took it upon himself to warn motorists. So far it has worked — no accidents. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Achievement 186 Per Cent Of Objective

The Outagamie County Soil Conservation District has exceeded its goals for fiscal 1964 by reaching 186 per cent of expectations.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) of the federal government provided a work unit conservationist Vernon Geiger, and two conservation technicians, Robert Lieske and Donald Powers, to help plan and direct the programs.

Some 80 days of engineering time was used for surveying, planning and setting up the more complicated jobs. The district also was provided with technical assistance in biology, forestry, soils, farm planning and engineering.

Drainage Control

One practice which exceeded goals was contour farming, something which the soil district had not exceeded goals anticipated. During the fiscal year 103 acres were placed under this erosion-control plan.

In an effort to control drainage, 5,950 linear feet of dykes were constructed, even though none had been anticipated by the district.

Some 18 acres of trees were

State Passes Law Regulating Slow-Moving Farm Machinery

Statute Prohibits Driving Wide Tractors On State Highways Without Special Permit

Slow moving farm machinery, Farm tractors over 12 feet long considered a highway hazard wide may not be driven on the highway under new restriction without special permit. The new regulations apply only to highways in the state system. Permits are required for overwidth machinery being moved on any interstate highway at any time.

Though not required by law, the safety division of the motor vehicle department recommends the display of the triangular Slow Moving Vehicle (SVM) emblem.

The department feels wide spread use of the iridescent emblems would help prevent rear end collisions.

Youths Win 5 Firsts at State Fair

CHILTON — Five Calumet County 4-H members exhibiting dairy cattle at the State Fair took blue ribbons.

They were Doris and Dyane Aebischer, route 4, Chilton; Connie Hacker, route 1, Brillion; Margie Geiser, route 1, Chilton; and Donnel Schnell, route 2, Chilton.

Other dairy exhibitors were Reuben Ott Jr., route 2, Hilbert; Ronda Hacker, Lyle and David Ott, route 1, Brillion; Marilyn and Tom Lintner, route 3, Chilton; and Patty Wagner, route 4, Chilton.

Three Hampshire hogs shown by Donald Reimer, route 4, Chilton, won blue, red and white ratings. Fifteen Chester Whites exhibited by Betty, Arlene and Joe Hemaier, route 1, New Holstein, earned two blue ribbons, four red and nine white.

Plan Pays $600,000

Approximately $600,000 was paid last week to farmers in Outagamie County who participated in the 1964 feed grain program, according to Joseph Rickert of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office.

That amount represents the final payment to the more than 1,100 farmers who participated. Payments made in the spring bring the total to about $900,000, he said.

Rickert warned farmers not to turn any animals into feed grain land or to attempt to harvest any crop from it. He said the county committee will investigate alleged violators.

Calumet, 4-H Agent Check Record Books

CHILTON — Charles Nikolai, Calumet County 4-H agent, and county 4-H leaders checked record books of all county members this week.

Nikolai said the books will be returned Oct. 3 at the annual 4-H achievement program at Chilton High School.

Art Krueger, 203 W. Division St., Kaukauna, has proof when he claims that his non-climbing hybrid tomato plants really do climb. And besides that, the bushes on the side of his home have scaled to almost nine feet tall. Krueger says he had his first ripe tomato July 5 and some of them measure seven inches across. Lake to Lake's new president, Albert Mueller, Mishicot, in his first official appearance before the 150-member delegate body challenged them to maintain a strong and healthy organization. Mueller stated "We must stress marketing, keep financially strong, keep good management, continue to grow, and we must perform as well or better than competition."

General manager, Truman Torgerson, reviewed the labor negotiations and the delegates unanimously resolved that the cooperative's offer to the union was a fair and reasonable offer.

Search for Disease Which Kills Seagulls

MANITOWOC (AP) — The State Conservation Department has joined in a search for the disease that has killed a number of seagulls found on the Lake Michigan shore.

Herb Vanderboorn, the conservation warden for Manitowoc County, gathered up about two dozens of the dead or disabled birds Wednesday for shipment to department laboratories in Madison for examination.

It was estimated that between 50 and 75 dead birds have been found since Sunday. A number of other birds have gathered on the beach, unable to fly, although they can swim.

Winnebago DHIA Cites Omro Herd in Testing

O. G. McSchooler Holsteins Post Highest Butterfat Production Average in July

The O. G. McSchooler registered herd, Omro, headed the grade Holsteins, four not milking, high herd group in July, according to the Winnebago County Dairy Herd Improvement (DHIA) milk testing association.

McSchooler's 34 cows, two not milking, averaged 1360 pounds of milk and 49 pounds of butterfat. In addition to his high herd average, he had one of the high producing cows in the association, Cleo, who produced 2,195 pounds of milk and 90 pounds of butterfat.

Mrs. James Egan, also of Omro, had 37 registered and grade Holsteins of which five were not milking, average 1,310 pounds of milk and 46 pounds of butterfat. The Egan herd also had a high cow, Boo, with 1,708 pounds of milk and 101 pounds of butterfat.

The Winnebago State Farm, the largest herd with 116 registered Holsteins, 11 not milking, averaged 1,261 pounds of milk, 46 pounds of fat and had two high cows in the list, No. 1040, 2,170 pounds of milk, 102 pounds of fat, and No. 1433, 2,558 pounds of milk and 92 pounds of fat.

The highest milk producing herd average was the George Brennand herd, Oshkosh. His 47 registered Holsteins, seven not milking, produced 1,379 pounds of milk and 46 pounds of butterfat. Other high herds were Lyle Beck, 19 all milking registered Holsteins, 1,298 pounds of milk, 45 pounds of butterfat; Loren Anderson and

Other High Cows

Registered Holsteins in other than top producing herds, and recognized in the high cow group, were No. 144, E. W. Atkins and Son, top in milk with 2,666 pounds, 96 pounds butterfat; Carl Basler's Dottie, 2,266 pounds of milk and 91 pounds of fat.

Grade Holsteins included Peg in the Raymond Koepp herd, 2,492 pounds of milk, 100 pounds of butterfat; Floyd Davis' Elen, 2,272 pounds of milk, 95 pounds of fat; Munsil Williams No. 26, 2,230 pounds of milk, 94 pounds of butterfat.

Third Cutting Hay Hit By Grasshopper Hoard

Fields Should be Sprayed With Carbaryl If Insects Abound, Farm Agent Advises

Farmers planning to harvest a third hay crop this summer will probably have to take steps to control insects, Russell L. Luckow, Outagamie County Agricultural Agent said.

Grasshoppers and leafhoppers can cut forage yields quickly. If left uncontrolled, Luckow says, grasshoppers will riddle forage crops leaving only the plant stems. Leafhoppers cause yellowing and stunting of plants.

He advised farmers to check their alfalfa fields carefully. If any of these insects are a problem, Carbaryl (Sevin) should be sprayed at the rate of one pound actual material in 10 or more gallons of water per acre. Sevin will not harm dairy cattle or other livestock even when treated forages are harvested immediately after treatment, he said.

However, Luckow suggests that at least one week should elapse between treatment and harvest to get the benefit of inand lay eggs. If you control insects in these areas this summer, there will be less of a chance for a serious grasshopper outbreak next year.

Valley Co-ops Seek Milk Price Increase

Join Others
In State in Plea
To Orville Freeman

Outagamie Producers Cooperative, Black Creek, and Consolidated Badger Cooperative, Shawano, are among 10 state milk cooperatives seeking the aid of Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to increase milk prices to Wisconsin dairy farmers.

At a recent meeting in Madison the cooperatives sent a telegram to Freeman asking him to "suspend the supply-demand adjuster in Chicago Federal Order 30 not later than Sept. 1, 1964."

According to the cooperatives, the "suspension will have the effect of increasing Order No. 30 price 24 cents per hundredweight but would incur no expense to the government."

The group also cited drought conditions in some parts of the state as a factor which is increasing the cost of quality milk production to the farmer.

Also signing the telegram to the secretary were Alto Cooperative Creamery, Antigo Milk Products Cooperative, Barron Cooperative Creamery, Central Wisconsin Cooperative Dairies, Westfield, Columbus Milk Producers Cooperative, Hillpoint Cooperative Dairies, Reedsburg, Lake to Lake Dairy Cooperative, Manitowoc and Wisconsin cooperative Dairies, Union Center.

Top Ayrshire Bull

CHILTON — Glenn Hacker, Brillion, exhibited the first place junior yearling Ayrshire bull in the State Fair's open division.

Calumet County this year had a total of 13 Ayrshires, all of which placed either second or third in the state competition.

Holstein Unit Accepts Two Appleton Youths

David and Gary Evers, Appleton, have been accepted for junior membership in The Holstein - Friesian Association of America.

To qualify, junior members must be under 21, and have completed one year of successful 4-H or vocational agricultural dairy project work. They also must own at least one registered Holstein in their name. Junior members are entitled to all privileges, except voting, of the National Holstein organization.

Calumet 4-H Group Has Bowling Party

CHILTON — A bowling demonstration and party for Calumet County junior 4-H leaders was held yesterday at Michels Bowling Alley, Sherwood.

Conflicting dates with other activities had delayed the program which was scheduled earlier in the summer. This was the last social get-together of the group before new members are initiated. Charles Nikolai, 4-H agent said.

Loans Accepted Now on 1964 Farm Products

County committeemen of the On Game Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) are now accepting loan applications for 1964 commodities including oats and corn

Joseph Rickert, office manager of the ASCS office, said only those members in the feed grain program were eligible for loans in barley and corn but anyone may apply for the loans on oats.

Loans are available as soon as the crop is in the bin or crib, according to Rickert.

Expiration date for the program is April 30, 1965, for oats and barley and July 31, 1965, for corn.

Under the program, the bins are sealed until the time that the crop is either used or delivered to a commodity corporation bin site.

Loans are paid at the rate of $1.11 a bushel for corn, 65 cents for oats and 86 cents for barley.

ACP Application Deadline Sept. 30

Expect $35,000 Allocation for Fall Work in Outagamie County

Fall sign-ups for the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) will be taken until Sept. 30, according to Joseph Rickert of the Outagamie County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

According to Rickert, all practices must be started this fall or before June 30, 1965.

Rickert said he expects about $35,000 to be made available in the fall and another $35,000 in the spring for the cost-sharing practices.

Those who sign up for practices which require Soil Conservation Service assistance should contact Vern Geiger at the Outagamie county courthouse. Rickert said.

Land Survey

He will survey the land and certify need for such practices, said Rickert.

Some of the popular practices which are included under the cost-sharing program are:

— pasture renovation and liming for soil protection against wind and water erosion and watershed protection.

— contour strip cropping to protect soil from erosion.

— timber stand improvement for erosion control and forestry improvement.

— surface drainage and tiling to control run-off water and erosion.

— winter cover to protect against wind, soil and water erosion.

Slate National 4-H Club Week

National 4-H Club Week is Sept. 26-Oct. 3.

This new date is a combination of the former Wisconsin "Join a 4-H Club Week" and the regular National 4-H Club week of the past.

4-H members, leaders, and extension agents throughout the state will tell the 4-H story utilizing the theme, "4-H: Learning for Living."

Objectives of the 1964 Club Week will be to tell the 4-H story on projects and accomplishments and on individual growth; to recognize volunteer leadership and donor cooperation and support; to influence more young people to want to join 4-H and to form new club; and to increase public understanding of 4-H aims and methods.

U. S. Preparing to Send 2 Spacecraft to Mars in November

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is preparing to send two Mariner spacecraft toward Mars next November or December.

If successful, the 570-pound spacecraft would pass within 10-1000 miles of Mars next July or a few weeks thereafter — and send back 150 million miles to earth the first television pictures from such a vast distance. Specialist Says Soil Should be Sampled Now

UW Expert Reports Results Are Better if Tests Done in Fall

Farmers planning to have their soil tested before next crop season will be ahead if they take samples now, says Harold H. Hull, University of Wisconsin soil testing specialist.

Soil test results tell the amounts of available soil nutrients and soil acidity. They are the best guide to buying lime and fertilizer.

Hull said some county Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service (ASCS) offices have already started sending samples to the University laboratories. Early samples are tested and results returned to the farmer quicker than samples sent in later this fall.

For instructions on soil testing, contact your local ASCS office Hull said. The test costs 75 cents per sample. Analysis tells pounds per acre of avail-pH reading and tons per acre of organic matter.

Procedure Given

When sampling, Hull recommends:

Sample in the fall, when soil moisture is favorable and fields are open.

Sample the whole farm, to save time and expense. Then, you only need an analysis at three or four-year intervals.

Avoid sampling in dead furrows, eroded or graded areas, near gravel roads, areas where animal manure is spread, areas where run-off occurs, and near corn rows.

Hull's recommendations are to take one sample for every four to five acres, depending on the lay of the land and size of field. At least two samples should be taken from a small field. Several samples are needed from a field with both hills and bottom land.

nine acres were smoothed over while 50 acres were hoped for.
On the other hand, the conservation cropping system was not even included in district planning, but 4,035 acres were put into it. Some 5,670 soils surveys were made, though only 5,000 had been expected.
Nine ponds were built on farms where none had been anticipated. Pasture and hay renovation, also not planned for, covered 179 acres. Another un-anticipated segment, spoils bank spreading, covered 29,200 feet.

Doubles Goal
Some 113 miles of construction has taken place, nearly doubling the goal 65 miles.
The SCS expected to receive and process 250 referrals. Instead they were able to process only 293 of 340 received. They assisted 480 land owners and provided 1,571 services.
Landowners themselves provided 480 services, even though they were only expected to contribute 160. The SCS also provided 112 advisory services on nonfarm topics.
During the course of the year
25 new cooperators were expected to join, but 54 did. Some 32 basic plans were produced and 12 revisions made.

Forecast State Grain Production For This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wiscsin's production of corn for grain this year will reach 115, 704,000 bushels, or 72 bushels per acre, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said in a crop forecast Tuesday.
The state's oat crop was estimated at 55 bushels per acre, for a total of 116,545,000 bushels.
The Wisconsin potato harvest was forecast at 18,320,000 pounds, or 1,636 pounds per acre.
The tobacco crop is expected to be larger in both southern and northern Wisconsin. Production of the southern Type 54 tobacco was set at 8.4 million pounds, compared with 8.28 million last year. The harvest of northern Type 55 is expected to reach 9.92 million pounds, against 8.69 million a year ago.

Democrats Map Out Plans For 'Great Society' Crusade

BY JACK BELL
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Accepting their nominations with the roaring tributes of the Democratic National Convention, President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey quickly turned today to the practical business of shaping a campaign aimed at defeating their Republican opponents.
Before they were to leave for a weekend at the LBJ ranch near Johnson City, Tex., the President and Humphrey, his vice presidential running mate, arranged to brief the party's na-

Gracie Allen Dead at 58

Scatterbrained Comedian Famous
For Radio, TV Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gracie Allen, whose scatterbrained comedy helped make Burns and Allen a top act in show business for 34 years, died Thursday night after a heart attack. She was 58.

Spokesmen for the family said Miss Allen died at 11:15 p.m. and that her husband, comedy actor George Burns, was at her side at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Contacted at the Burns home in Beverly Hills, William Burns, George's brother, said the popular comedienne had been in seemingly good health before being stricken.

Mild Attacks
He said she had experienced mild heart attacks in the past. They didn't, however, seem to slow her down much. Ten days ago she and her husband were presidential nominee Barry among the guests at the gala Goldwater. His attack indicated wedding reception for Edie that the Democrats will have a Adams and her new husband, Marty Mills.

She appeared effervescent and cheerful, as she has been since her retirement in 1958.

tional committee on their fast-forming political plans.

Looks to Future
The President, interrupted time and again by applause, said, in accepting nomination for a first four-year elective term, that the election is "not between liberals and conservatives, party and party, platform and platform."

"It is between courage and timidity," he shouted. "It is between those who see what can be, and those who want only to maintain the status quo. It is between those who welcome the future and those who turn away from its promise."

He pledged "a constant, patient effort to move the world toward peace."

"Fair Play to All"
"I will use the full resources of the federal government," to assure fair play to all Americans, he continued, and said that his talents would be directed toward "bringing our nation together in unity."

"In pursuit of this common purpose," he said, "I believe we shall someday see an America that knows no North, or South, no East, or West — an America undivided by creed or color, untorn by suspicion or strife."

To accomplish this, he said that "those who break the law — those who create disorder — whether in the North or in the South — must be caught and brought to justice."

Violence Must End
"In every part of this country, the law must be respected and violence must be checked," he said.

Humphrey gave the crowd a lot more to yell about.

The ebullient Minnesota senator, in his acceptance speech, flailed away at Republicanism, and his husband was presidential nominee Barry among the guests at the gala Goldwater. His attack indicated wedding reception for Edie that the Democrats will have a Adams and her new husband, Marty Mills.

She appeared effervescent and cheerful, as she has been since her retirement in 1958.

Reynolds, Lucey on Receiving End of Kennedy Accolades

Attorney General Calls Election of State Win
2 Vital to Late President's Goals

BY JAMES BARTELT
Post-Crescent News Service

ATLANTIC CITY — A beaming Gov. John Reynolds and Patrick Lucey, candidate for lieutenant governor, were described Thursday as being close friends of the late President Kennedy and that their election is essential to continue programs started by the Kennedy administration.

The accolade came from Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, now a candidate for the senate from New York, who inserted a visit to the Wisconsin delegation hotel into a sentimental day at the convention city. It needed no saying, but the late president's brother recalled that the Kennedy march to the White House started in the snow and cold of the 1960 Wisconsin primary campaign.

"I wanted to come to show our appreciation to all of you for doing so much four years ago. You have all played such a role in the nomination of President Kennedy. Though we weren't completely successful, we had a great beginning," the attorney general said.

The circumstances of Kennedy's visit illustrated the close ties of both politics and emotion between the Reynolds-Lucey branch of state Democrats and the Kennedy organization.

Despite the late hours of conventions, a band of about 25 badger state delegates went to the airport at 8 a.m. to be part of the Kennedy welcome. A Kennedy visit to the hotel was announced Wednesday night, but was cancelled Thursday when Kennedy's schedule ran behind. It was rescheduled suddenly two hours later.

"Steve Smith called me and said the schedule had been closed up. When I told him I didn't know if we could get a crowd, he said Bobby wanted to come only if you and John Reynolds are there," Lucey reported later.

Smith is a Kennedy brother-in-law and worked in the 1960 campaign when Lucey, as state party chairman, declared for Kennedy.

The scene could have been taken directly from that primary. Kennedy spoke to about 100 persons while standing on a chair in the lobby of the primitive hotel assigned to Wisconsin.

New Clashes Feared Greeks Ask Turks to Delay Cyprus Rotation

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — and Turkey. Greek Cypriots Greece asked the Turkish government today to postpone for a few days the rotation of regular Turkish army troops in Cyprus.

Turkey's plans to send fresh troops to the embattled island had posed the danger of an armed clash between Greece

Government's Threat
The Cyprus government was quoted as saying the Turkish troops could depart from Cyprus but replacements would not be permitted and if they landed at the port of Famagusta they would be turned back by force if necessary.

The 650-man Turkish unit moved inside the Turkish Cypriot quarter in Nicosia when fighting erupted last December. About half the contingent is scheduled for rotation home Monday.

The 900-man Greek contingent reportedly also left its encampments during the fighting but later returned to its regular quarters west of Nicosia.

Both Turkish and Greek troops are here under treaties which gave independence to Cyprus. Turkey rotates half of its contingent every six months.

U.N. Secretary General U. Thant, who flies to Geneva today, will use his good offices to try to head off a clash over the troop issue. Thant is going to Geneva to open an atom-for-peace conference.

On the plus side for the Democrats as they prepare for the Wisconsin November show-down was President Johnson's selection of Sen. Hubert Humphrey, genuinely popular in Wisconsin on the record, as his running-mate.

Help Party
He can help the Democratic party in doubtful Wisconsin districts in a way that Rep. Miller on the Barry Goldwater ticket cannot.

On the minus side for the Democrats and a probably plus for the Republicans is the fact that the president's image in Wisconsin may be somewhat blurred because of comparatively recent hostility toward him by many of the top leaders and

Hurricane Loses Force but May Renew Energy as It Veers to Sea

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo, no longer the blustering monster that roared through Miami, slapped weakly today at the rockets of Cape Kennedy and the city of Daytona Beach.

But the Miami Weather Bureau reported a tendency to redevelop in the offshore portion of the eye, and warned that the present northward track will carry the storm again over the Atlantic where Cleo could draw new energy from the warm Gulf Stream.

Warnings Stay Up
Only a 43-mile breeze, punctuated by an occasional gust up to 60, marked the passage of the once vicious storm to the west of Daytona Beach. Damage was superficial.

A tropical storm draws energy from water and Cleo had been over the Florida coast so long, winds of hurricane force remained only in a small area northeast of the center.

Hurricane warnings remained up north to Brunswick, Ga., and a hurricane watch was in effect to Charleston, S.C.

A curving, 2,500-mile path of death and destruction was behind the hurricane. Her known death toll stood at 138.

Cleo, which left Miami and 200 miles of Florida's "Gold Coast" looking like a battle zone after striking with winds up to 115 miles an hour, hit Cape Kennedy with winds that peaked at 65 m.p.h.

That was 10 miles below hurricane strength, not enough to cause serious damage to the sprawling facility, which was prepared to weather winds more than twice that velocity.

Six giant space rockets rode out the storm lashed securely to their launching pads and crews resumed the work of readying them, for firing.

The Weather Bureau at Miami said Cleo was expected to move offshore this morning and intensify. Hurricane warnings remained up at Brunswick, Ga., and gale warnings extended to Hatteras.

The storm was moving at about 10 m.p.h.

Cleo took no lives in Florida, but the death toll still was climbing in the southwestern tip

A DC-3, Tied Down at Opalacka Airport near Miami, Fla., was airborne by 125-mile an hour gusts of wind generated by Hurricane Cleo and set down more than a mile away undamaged (AP Wirephoto)

Roosevelt and Rayburn Were For Johnson on His Way Up

He Has Always Known Who Was Against and Who Was for Him

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson's father once told him that a good politician ought to be able to walk into a crowded room, and know at once who would be for him and who would be against him. A big reason Johnson is where he is today is that such men as President Franklin D. Roosevelt the certain knowledge that unbelievably long hours of work pay off: the extrovert, arm-around-the-shoulder camaraderie, and the talents of the great persuader—"come, let us reason together."

Sam Rayburn of Texas, the man who was to serve longest as House speaker, got FDR to make Johnson the Texas state administrator of the National Youth Administration. In this depression relief agency Johnson found work, of one kind or another, for some 300-900 Texas boys. Many became the debaters at a Houston high school. He joined Kleberg's campaign and, when it was over, went to Washington with him as his secretary.

The rest, as the sages say, is developed quickly. In Washington, where politics was boiling 24 hours a day, Johnson really found himself most always known who was for him and who was against him. There he began to develop the qualities his elders were quick to note. The unerring instinct in Shakespeare's words, "with that told him where power lay."

Second of Series

and House Speaker Sam Rayburn were for him when he was on his way up. As a member of the U.S. House and the Senate, as the superpowerful Senate leader of the 1950s, as vice president and as president Johnson has at-kept boiling 24 hours a day, Johnson really found himself most always known who was for him and who was against him. There he began to develop the qualities his elders were quick to note. The unerring instinct in Shakespeare's words, "with that told him where power lay."

5-Hour Reception

Mrs. Kennedy Greet Convention Delegates

BY JOY MILLER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy greeted thousands of Democratic delegates with a smile and a handshake at a reception in her honor. But she left town before the convention paid tribute to her assassinated husband in its closing session.

The five-hour-long reception given Thursday by Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Harriman, was the first large public function the former First Lady has attended since last November's tragedy.

Accompanied by several of the Kennedy clan — sisters-in-law Eunice Shriver, Jean Smith and the late Pat Lawford — Mrs. Kennedy flew in for the occasion. After the last guest had filed past the receiving line, she left town bound for her mother's summer home in Newport, R.I.

A family spokesman said the filmed memorial tribute for her husband would be too much of an emotional ordeal for her. The reception, held in a hotel's white and gold ballroom, almost leaping at times to the side of any colleague who might be wavering from the Johnson standard.

His most surprising legislative triumphs had to do with civil rights. In 1957 he won Senate passage of the first civil rights bill in more than 80 years. It provided protection of the right to vote, primarily. In 1960 he won again, with civil rights legislation, this time over a Southern filibuster. This law strengthened the voting rights provisions and set up penalties for bombings in racial cases.

First 20 Years
Through his first 20 years in Congress, Johnson had voted all of the time with the Southern bloc, against federal laws in the civil rights field. Among the words that Sen. Barry Goldwater has threatened to bring up in this year's presidential campaign are these, delivered by Johnson at Austin, Tex., in 1948: "This civil rights program, about which you have heard so much, is a farce and a sham—an effort to set up a police state in the guise of liberty."

In 1964, Johnson displayed pride in the sweeping civil rights law which Congress passed this summer with his blessing and urging.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who had been nominated as the Democrats' vice presidential candidate, came alone. He received a big smile and "congratulations" from Mrs. Kennedy. At each session the former First Lady, who wore a simple V-neck, sleeveless, two-piece dress and white shoes and gloves, made a brief speech.

Expresses Thanks
"I want to thank all of you for coming who helped President that Kennedy in 1960," she said in a soft, barely audible voice. Her words of thanks followed a reading by actor Fredric March and his actress wife Florence Eldridge of selections from the late President's favorite prose and poetry. They included John Buchanan's "Pillar of the Wave" and Alan Seeger's "I Have a Rendezvous with Death."

Occasionally Mrs. Kennedy took a brief rest upstairs in a fourth floor suite, the Kennedy sisters-in-law or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, would then take her place in the reception line with the Harrimans.

Disadvantage to Owning Two Cars

Ugh.
This is an awful picture of a Volkswagen. Its car.

We don't go much for trading bees or sales jamming or anything like that. Maybe it's because we don't quite understand the system.

We've never figured out why they run clearances on their cars.

It's there every year, every year, why more so many people buy a car?

And how come the price goes down, even though the car is still a car?

How can the price go up, when you buy one last year?

How can a dealer keep on buying cars on hand when they're all sold?

How can a dealer keep track of what he's doing?

It's a very confusing. Either we're way behind the times or way ahead.

Democratic Chairman Predicts

LBJ Expected to Carry 62 Pct. of State Vote

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—President Johnson will carry Wisconsin with 62 per cent of the November vote, Democratic state chairman Louis Hanson says the party's latest poll indicates.

Such a margin would make the President a bigger winner than former President Harry S. Truman, the last Democratic victor in Wisconsin.

Hanson would only identify the polling agency as "completely thorough and competent." And in an interview Wednesday he would not reveal findings on races for governor and U.S. senator.

Campaign Stop

At least one campaign stop has been scheduled for President Johnson in Wisconsin, Hanson said. The site probably will be Milwaukee and the date sometime in October.

The state chairman said he was given the information in a huddle with White House aides gathered in Democratic convention city. He said he was told the vice presidential nominee, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota will be a frequent visitor in Wisconsin.

According to Hanson, Humphrey will make several Wisconsin train tours in the whistle stop style of Truman.

Similar swings are planned for other name campaigners, but they will travel by bus.

Travel By Bus

"The buses will be fitted out like parlor cars and used by Cabinet officers, senators and others making trips through the state," Hanson said.

The chairman pinpointed the V-neck, sleeveless, two-piece areas of Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, and the 2nd and 10th Congressional districts as the spots of major concentration in the Democratic campaign.

"Sen. Gaylord Nelson showed us where Democrats win Kennedy in 1960," he said in a statewide elections," Hanson said. Nelson served two terms as governor—the first of his party elected in 25 years—then whipped incumbent Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley in 1962.

Convince GOP
"I think the hardest thing for us will be to convince Republicans that their party no longer represents the view of the Teddy Roosevelts, the La Follettes and many fine mod- orates, including Dwight Eisenhower," Hanson said.

The party candidate for lieutenant governor, Patrick J. Lucey of Madison, expanded on Hanson's comment.

"We must try to reach the voters concerned about the complexities of our age—the front-lash, as they call it," Lucey said.

"We have to make it understood that the stakes are so high we can't risk giving the

Home Spun Appeal
In scanning Wisconsin's political map, the former state chairman said he saw where President Johnson would "wipe out the main deficits" contributing to the late President Kennedy's loss of the state four years ago.

He cited Dane County and a tier of counties in northwest Wisconsin which formerly comprised the 9th Congressional District.

"The same kind of homespun appeal that Harry Truman had" will benefit Johnson in the rural spots of those areas, Lucey said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway theaters can have bars after Oct. 1 under a new state law, but one theater says it will give patrons free drinks for three weeks before that.

Producer Arthur Cantor announced Monday the drinks — liquor or beer — will be served before performances and during intermission of "The Committee," a revue which starts previews Sept. 11 at the Henry Miller Theater.

Last year the State Liquor Authority stopped the serving of free drinks at a Broadway theater on the ground that the law frowns on a charge of admission as a prerequisite for a free drink.

The new law permits bars in places of adult recreation.

HOW SHOULD WE PRAY?

Prayer is far more than an SOS, says The Right Rev. James A. Pike.

He shows why "day-to-day life takes on an entirely new dimension as you are more and more conscious of living out your moments under God, for God and with God."

Holding Is Still Ahead of Plans, NFO Chief Says

Robert Matz Reports Action 'Not Over Yet'

NEW LONDON — "The holding action is not over and we are still ahead of schedule," Robert Matz, Outagamie County National Farmers Organization (NFO) president, said Thursday.

"We are still holding cattle on the farm and busy contacting the other non-member farmers despite the altering of State Patrol and the calling off of demonstrations by the national office," he said.

An area meeting in Ntengale Ballroom tonight will include members from five or six counties, he said. Ed Graf, national director for a 22-county area will be at the meeting to discuss the effect and plans for the holding action.

Matz said non-members will be welcome.

Continue Checking
Check points at all buying and packing locations will be continued. Farmers hauling cattle to these areas will be told of the action and asked to join in it.

Matz said many new members have been added to NFO rosters fast. Eight joined the group in Outagamie County in one day, he said.

"This is not a large figure," he said, "until one considers there are 23 states and more than 1,500 counties in the holding action and each of these is adding members every day. This would increase our total membership by 12,000 in one day if all counties did the same."

Matz said "it should be apparent" to the non-member after Thursday's cattle trading that any rise in prices is only temporary with out the NFO signing an agreement with packers setting a minimum price.

NFO representatives here believe victory is close because of action taken by the national office calling off all demonstrations.

There are rumors the organization must sign only two more packers to contracts before the holding action will end.

Post-Crescent News Service

CLINTONVILLE — Although a vast majority of firms and municipalities cited for contributing to pollution of rivers in the Wolf River watershed failed to appear, those who did promised every effort would be made to "clean up" the running waters of northeastern and east central Wisconsin.

The occasion for accused polluters of the Wolf River and its tributaries to state their cases was a public hearing conducted Wednesday in the National Guard Armory here by the State Committee on Water Pollution.

The state agency, with the aid of the State Board of Health, listed a number of communities and industries in the watershed which are dumping insufficiently treated waste matter into the streams. Appearance, was voluntary. The meeting was more of a report by state personnel on the kind of pollution they found and how studies were conducted.

Some Dumping

Although some of the firms and municipalities are dumping sewage, milk processing waste, paper mill and sawmill waste into the river, a state biologist testified in a number of cases, because of the nature and flow of the water, the rivers had cleaned themselves within one-half mile to seven miles of the

Buckley, Lorge Clintonville's Assessed Value Disagree About Surpasses $21.9 Million Mark

Real Estate Worth Paces Gains But Personal Property Drops

Bear Creek Senator Accuses Opponent of 'Bare-Faced' Lies

More than just a little dissension popped up Thursday at the Outagamie County Republican Party's "Candidates' Night" program in the civic room of the Outagamie County Bank.

Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, the incumbent senator in the 14th District, and Lorge's opponent, George Buckley, Appleton, were involved in a heated session of charges and counter-charges.

Lorge accused Buckley of "a late assessment shows residential land valued at $1,388,320, an increase of $27,310, and residential improvements at $9,783,370, an increase of $131,470."

So Is Press
And Lorge also accused Buckley of lying for saying Lorge cast the deciding vote for the withholding tax in the State Senate.

Buckley answered Lorge's accusation by saying his source of information on Lorge's roll call voting record was The Milwaukee Sentinel.

"And," Buckley said, "if I'm a liar for saying what I did, so is the Milwaukee Sentinel who researched Lorge's voting record and printed it and so is the Appleton Post-Crescent for printing it, and so are radio stations WHBY and WAPL for reading it over the air."

"Prove My Record"
Lorge's anger was the result of an article in Thursday's Post-Crescent which reported on a speech Buckley gave Wednesday.

Byrnes Claims Democrats Distort Truth

BY DICK LYNES

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

National Democratic Party leaders came under heavy attack from Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, Thursday night when he charged them with "distorting the truth."

Speaking at a Republican "Candidates' Night" in the civic room of the Outagamie County Bank, Byrnes said, "After hearing Sen. John O. Pastore and (Speaker of the House) John McCormack speak to the Democratic national convention, I find out I'm an extremist as are all Republican Party leaders."

"But," Byrnes said, "as long as I'm a good Republican, I'm not too worried about what the Democrats call us."

"I think we're going to give everybody a label their 'national convention.'"

'Constitutional Rights'
If adhering to the constitutional rights of freedom of speech and freedom of assembly is extremism, Byrnes said, "then I'm an extremist."

If trying to hold down the national debt which we are giving to our 14th generation is extremism, I plead guilty.

If trying to control inflation is extremism, I plead guilty.

If successfully recognizing the plight of five million people who needed additional social security rights, getting legislation Jones, 21, 312 Elm St., was arrested and providing them with rest by city police while operating a vehicle on N. Water streets of the administration is Street Sunday and charged with extremism, we Republicans operating a motor vehicle with-pleads guilty.

'Party Guilty'
If keeping the Old Age Assistance and Survivors Insurance Court Thursday.

ance program on a sound financial basis so 20 million old people won't have an experiment in socialized medicine imposed on them is extremism, we Republicans plead guilty.

"If trying to protect the rights of the individual against an all-powerful federal government is extremism, then the Republican Party is guilty."

"If belief in the private enterprise system is extremism I plead guilty."

"If believing in our basic constitutional system of checks and balances is extremism, I plead guilty."

'Nut, Crackpot'
The Republican Party refuses to be intimidated because of remarks by Pastore, McCormack and other Democrats at the national convention."

Byrnes said "Anybody who opposes the Democrats," he said, "is being called a nut, a crackpot and an extremist."

The Republican Party will not tolerate distortion, libel, slander and intimidation from any source."

Byrnes called the Democratic Party leaders' statements similar to those used in the tactics of John Birch Society leader Robert Welch, the Ku Klux Klan, the Communist Party and the American Nazi Party.

"Sen. Pastore attempted to label the Republican Party an extremist party," Byrnes said, "and aimed a deliberate distortion at us when he tried to imply our party favors letting the American Nazi Party."

Bayorgeon Raps Barry's Labor Views

Eighth District Democratic Hopeful Speaks to Union

Statements by the Republican presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater on right-to-work laws and on social security were criticized in a Kaukauna talk Wednesday night by Joseph (Doty) Bayorgeon, the Kaukauna mayor who is seeking the Democratic Party nomination in the Eighth District congressional race.

Bayorgeon quoted a statement made by Goldwater in Kingston, N.C. Jan. 17 when Goldwater said, "Why should a man be forced to join a labor union just because 50 per cent of his fellow workers say they want to join?"

Bayorgeon told over 100 members of Local 147, Pulp and Sulphite Paper Mill Workers at the Kaukauna Labor Hall that "if right-to-work laws were legislated and enacted, it would destroy the very historic principles that unionism has been formed on."

'Purpose of Unionism'
"It would take away the purpose of unionism that is meant to preserve human dignity, do away with hardship, obtain public

Firms, Communities Vow To 'Clean Up' Wolf River pollution source to the extent the effluent doesn't greatly affect the dissolved oxygen values which are vital to aquatic life.

While a number of firms and municipalities were accorded what approached a "clean bill of health" as the result of studies made on the waterways, and others were contributing seriously to the pollution problem, still others contributed considerably to the amount of soluble and insoluble waste in the water and waste which has a high biochemical oxygen demand. The latter removes oxygen from the water which aquatic life needs.

The Wolf River drainage area was described as 3,782 square miles of timbered and agricultural lands having a relatively light human population. The population density in the area has decreased 5 per cent, compared to a state population increase of 26 per cent. The area includes 40 lakes, many rivers and creeks listed as trout water, relatively little industry, but includes 10 canning companies, with the lower basin devoted to dairy farms and the central portion raising much cabbage and cucumbers.

River Statistics

The 120-mile-long drainage basin, 55 miles wide, has the Wolf as its principal river. The Wolf travels 225 miles through the basin with a fall of 900 feet, 770 feet of that fall in an 80 mile stretch above the first Shawano dam. In the 100 river miles from Shawano to Winneconne the drop is less than 50 feet. The Embarrass and Little Wolf are the major tributaries, along with the Pine, Rat, Red, Shioc, Waupaca, West Branch of the Wolf Rivers and Willow Creek. The area gets an average of about 30 inches of rainfall annually, but precipitation in 1963 was down amounts ranging from more than two and a half inches at Waupaca to seven inches at Shawano.

L. A. Monti of the State Board of Health testified no monthly reports as requested by the state agency have been filed by the communities of Keshena, Shiocton, Neopit, Bonduel, Seymour, Hortonville, Birnamwood, Tigerton, Clintonville, Marion and Manawa.

Systems Inadequate

Complaints against various firms and municipalities involved mostly inadequacies of local systems to handle increased waste from industrial plants, overloading, often when clear water from storm sewers overtaxed the capacities of the treatment plants.

Lloyd Lueschow, Verona, a biologist for the water pollution committee, testified while some companies and municipalities—including the F. R. Buss cheese factory at Caroline and the villages of Embarrass and Iola—were dumping waste into streams, the biological studies used could not detect any harmful effect because the water flow in those instances was great enough to dilute foreign matter.

Testifying about other streams, the Wolf River appeared to take care of its Shawano village and the villages of Gresh-pollution problem seven miles am, Embarrass, Cecil, Red downstream, and "cleaned-up" Granite and Nichols. Firms in- within a little over a half mile cluded the Borden Food Co., below the Shiocton Kraut fac- Fox Valley Canning Co., F. R. tory. Buss Cheese Co., and Shiocton Kraut Co. via a letter.

Black Creek
But below Seymour for four and one-half miles, Black Creek's reduced dissolved oxygen value reaches critical levels. The Pigeon River below Clintonville suffers reduced dissolved oxygen levels periodically because of excessive organic wastes and upstream the Pigeon River below Marion was described as typical polluted water environment.

Representatives of alleged polluters all said steps were being taken, or had been taken to correct problems outlined by the committee and pledged cooperation.

They included Menominee Enterprises Inc., the cities of Shawano, New London, Clinton-to the county Youth for Gold-water group.

In his speech Wednesday, Buckley accused Lorge of missing 114 roll call votes in the past State Senate session and of casting what might have been a deciding vote in favor of the withholding tax.

During his speech Lorge said it was "the duty of the man running for office to prove that the incumbent is not deserving of re-election. It's my duty," Lorge said. "To prove my record."

Need Strength

Lorge said the Senate Committee on Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking, of which he is chairman, has held up the confirmation of former Milwaukee Mayor Frank Zeidler as director of the State Department of Resource Development and has held up "17 other Reynolds appointees."

"And," he said, "we'll continue to hold them until January when Warren Knowles is elected governor. The positions will be filled by Knowles."

In his prepared talk Buckley said the Republican Party "needs more men in the Legislature who will have records of strength and achievement, not weakness and vacillation."

'Counter-Proposals'

"We need constructive counter-proposals to Democratic schemes and plans," Buckley said. "Instead of having legislators who go to Madison just to fill a chair."

Buckley proposed that, when he is elected governor, Knowles should appoint a committee of Wisconsin business and industrial leaders to make a study of "waste and inefficiency in state government."

He said "business will come to a state that has a prosperity climate."

Buckley pledged to work toward the repeal of the withholding tax, the lowering or reduction of the personal property tax and a program for safer Wisconsin highways to be built from existing revenue sources if he is elected.

2 Accused of 1959 Crime Are Sought

District Attorney Issues Warrant For Southerners

Two men whose alleged crime will be five years old next December have been named in a bench warrant issued Wednesday by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer.

Named are Kent Cox, a Tennessee salesman, and Charles Municipalities charged with pollution that did not appear or explain their position included Shiocton, Fremont, Manawa, Waupaca, Winneconne, Bonduel, Seymour, Black Creek, Weyauwega, Neopit, Hortonville, Marion, Bear Creek, Iola, Amherst, Birnamwood, Tigerton, Wittenberg and Tustin.

Firms Not Heard

Firms which did not answer the water pollution charges included Badger Breeders Co-op, Shiocton Dairy Co-op, Shawano Paper Mill, Matteson Cheese and Butter, Bonduel Pickling, Seymour Canning, Frank Pure Food, Stephenville Cheese, Shawano Canning, Flanagan Brothers, Scandinavia Creamery, Symco Cheese, Rosholt Cheese, Weyauwega Dairy, Riverside Cheese, Farmer's Co-op, South Greenville Dairy, Alder Creek Dairy, Wild Rose Co-op, Daisy, Brushville Cheese and Chicago Pickle Co.

Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission, lauded the cooperation expressed by firms and industry and offered the commission's services to help work out difficult problems involving the watershed.

He hit at the possible effect of insecticides in regard to the fish kill in Lake Winnebago this summer and said the Wolf River basin provides 70 per cent of the water for the densely populated Fox River Valley, the second fastest growing area in the state.

Suggests Aid

E. R. Garrow, also of the WRBRC, suggested aid from state and federal agencies to supplement the aroused interest of the public in its resources.

Ray Eccleshek, director of public works, New London, complained of Public Service Commission red tape hampering efforts to get solids out of the river, asserting Lakes Poygan and Winnebago were filling with sediment. He asked transfer of authority to the Wisconsin Conservation Commission.

Ray Ramming, St. Germaine resort owner made a plea for water funds similar to the forestry aid funds and Bubolz and Ozzie Muegge, state sanitary engineer, both urged increased funds and a larger staff for the committee.

Bill Ruth, Eagle River, president of the Wisconsin Wildlife Federation, pledged the organization's support of strong anti-pollution laws and Cap Bittner, White Lake, Trout Unlimited representative for Wisconsin offered that organization's help in controlling pollution.

Committee Members

The water pollution committee was comprised of Chairman Larry Motwlof, the WCD, James McDermott of the attorney general's office, Muegge, and Theodore Wisniewski, director of the committee on water pollution.

Staff personnel testifying for the State Board of Health were B. W. Stevens, Green Bay, L. A. Monti, Madison, and for the committee on water pollution, James L. Lissack, Green Bay, Larry L. Mahbey, Wisconsin Rapids, Lloyd A. Lueschow, and F. H. Schraufnagel, Madison. About 40 persons attended the hearing.

Sears, a Kentucky truck driver, Both have been free on $1,000 bonds since their arraignment on burglary and possession of burglary tool charges brought against them in December, 1959.

Arrested in 1959

The men posted bonds after pleading innocent to the charges in January and trial had been set for April. The men never appeared for trial, however, and the case has been held open.

Appleton police arrested the men after they were found in a coin laundry Dec. 19, 1959. They were charged with taking $50 from a laundry machine. Sears was found to have a small screw driver which police said was used in prying open the laundry machine.

Authorities said the men have not been seen in the area since Jan. 4, 1960 when they posted their bonds when they purchased from an Indiana bond firm.

Schaefer said the warrants have been forwarded to Appleton police who will try to investigate into the whereabouts of Cox and Sears. If they are found, the men will be returned to Appleton for trial.

Byrnes Hits Democrats For 'Distorting Truth'

military field commanders have control of the bomb.

"I know of no Republican leader," Byrnes said, "who advocates divesting the president's authority over the bomb."

"There's a great deal of difference," he said, "between the bomb and allowing military field commanders to have control over certain tactical weapons."

NATO Commanders

"NATO commanders," he said, "should have the authority to use certain tactical weapons in some situations."

Discussing the role of foreign policy in the national campaign, the Democratic administration's "weakening stand against communism," Byrnes said foreign policy "should be a non-partisan affair and should not be a political issue, but when the Democrats of conflict have passed,"

Byrnes said, "and I hope that in our lifetimes we'll see that day. But I don't want the American people to be misled into thinking that day has arrived."

'Shaky Ground'

"The mere hope which the Democrats talk about is shaky ground," Byrnes said, "on which to build the edifice of national security."

"Republican policy is not based on belligerency, but on caution and the lessons of history. When the communists tear down the Berlin Wall, break the Iron Curtain, stop wars of national liberation and end subversion in South America, then the Eisenhower administration we Republicans will begin to think that maybe there is a real 20th Century under a Democratic administration and they will see how ridiculous the Democrats' charge is."

Byrnes also warned against "weakening stand against communism," Byrnes said foreign policy "should be a non-partisan affair and should not be a political issue, but when the Democrats of conflict have passed,"

"I think we all hope the danger of conflict have passed," Byrnes said, "and I hope we'll see that day. But I don't want the American people to be misled into thinking that day has arrived."

he education, regulate hours and increase wages," Bayorgeon said.

The Kaukauna mayor also made reference to a Goldwater statement in Concord, N.H. Jan. 7. He quoted Goldwater as saying "I would like to suggest social security be voluntary and if a person can provide better for himself, let him do it."

Bayorgeon said "Goldwater thinks we may be able to do something like this by 1970. He said we would be better off if Social Security was on a voluntary basis."

'Tear Down System'

"If this happens," Bayorgeon said, "it would tear down the whole social security system and destroy what social security has provided for the security of the American people."

He (Goldwater) has by word and deed repudiated everything that labor has worked for and fought for.

"In other words," Bayorgeon said, "he would like to destroy the great American institution of unionism."

One of Sen. William Proxmire's opponents for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination was campaigning in the Fox Cities Thursday.

Arlyn Wollenburg, in a prepared statement, called for a two dollar minimum wage law "which would be a cure for all the problems of America."

Wollenburg, 43, a perennial office-seeker from Oshkosh, said with a higher minimum wage "wives wouldn't have to work. Then the kids in the 16-20 age group could get more part-time jobs and they wouldn't be on the highways killing themselves nor would they be engaged in juvenile delinquency."

He said he would engage in public debate with his two Democratic opponents, Proxmire and Kenneth Klinkert, Menomonee Falls, "if he could get a free hall and the press, radio and TV will be there."

with the withholding and selective sales tax provisions, I voted against it."

Vote Made It Tie

Lorge also said Buckley's statement on the withholding tax vote was untrue. "My vote made it a tie," he said, "and Warren Knowles (then lieutenant governor) cast the deciding vote and Gov. Gaylord Nelson been losing not only strength, but respect as well."

On the bill that became law

He Has Always Known Who Was Against and Who Was for Him

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson's father once told him that a good politician ought to be able to walk into a crowded room, and know at once who would be for him and who would be against him. A big reason Johnson is where he is today is that such men as President Franklin D. Roosevelt the certain knowledge that unbelievably long hours of work pay off; the extrovert, arm-around-the-shoulder camaraderie, and the talents of the great persuader—"come, let us reason together."

Sam Rayburn of Texas, the man who was to serve longest as House speaker, got FDR to make Johnson the Texas state administrator of the National Youth Administration. In this depression relief agency Johnson found work, of one kind or another, for some 300 Texas boys. Many became longtime admirers, helping to build his political strength.

Big Laugh

A Johnson-staged performance got a big laugh out of FDR in 1936 when the president was paying a trip to Dallas. Along the highway, as Roosevelt's motorcade swept by, there stood a line of NYA workers, each boy holding his shovel in a "present arms" salute. In 1937, Johnson made a big move. He tried for a Texas House seat that had been vacated by death. There were nine candidates, most veering away from Roosevelt.

Johnson came out four-square for the New Deal, including the Roosevelt Supreme Court re-vamping bill, which critics called the court-packing bill. He won, to the delight of Roosevelt, whom Johnson has called "a daddy to me."

Active Duty

In 1941, three days after Pearl Harbor, he became the first member of the House to go on active duty in World War II. He returned to his congressional duties in mid-1942, at the order of President Roosevelt.

Johnson stayed in the House until elected to the Senate in 1948, after a race that wound up so close that he was jokingly called "Landslide Johnson."

In the Senate, Johnson became the very model of an effective strategist. He operated with a peculiar regard for the personal sensibilities of his fellow senators and was soon on the way to running the show. He became majority leader in 1955 at the age of 47. That same year he survived a serious heart attack—and quit smoking.

Senate Leader

As Senate leader, Johnson wheedled, cajoled, threatened, persuaded and compromised, working 18 hours a day. Fidgety then, he was a sight to be seen, striding about the Senate chamber, almost leaping at times to the side of any colleague who might be wavering from the Johnson standard.

His most surprising legislative triumphs had to do with civil rights.

In 1957 he won Senate passage of the first civil rights bill in more than 80 years. It provided protection of the right to vote, primarily. In 1960 he won again with civil rights legislation, this time over a Southern filibuster. This law strengthened the voting rights provisions and set up penalties for bombings in racial cases.

First 20 Years

Through his first 20 years in Congress, Johnson had voted all of the time with the Southern bloc, against federal laws in the civil rights field. Among the words that Sen. Barry Goldwater has threatened to bring up in this year's presidential campaign are these, delivered by Johnson at Austin, Tex., in 1948: "This civil rights program, about which you have heard so much, is a farce and a sham—an effort to set up a police state in the guise of liberty."

In 1964, Johnson displayed pride in the sweeping civil rights law which Congress passed this summer with his blessing and urging.

5-Hour Reception

Mrs. Kennedy Greets Convention Delegates

BY JOY MILLER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy greeted thousands of Democratic delegates with a smile and a handshake at a reception in her honor. But she left town before the convention paid tribute to her assassinated husband in its closing session.

The five-hour-long reception, given Thursday by Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Harriman, was the first large public function the former First Lady has attended since last November's tragedy.

Accompanied by several of the Kennedy clan — sisters-in-law Eunice Shriver, Jean Smith and Pat Lawford — Mrs. Kennedy flew in for the occasion. After the last guest had left the receiving line, she filed town bound for her mother's summer home in Newport, R.I.

Avoids Ordeal

A family spokesman said the filmed memorial tribute to her husband would be too much of an emotional ordeal for her.

The reception, held in a hotel's white and gold ballroom, was so large it had to be divided into three sections. Lynda Johnson, the President's 20-year-old daughter, dropped in on the first, while her mother paid her respects later.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who had been nominated as the Democrats' vice presidential candidate, came alone. He received a big smile and "congratulations!" from Mrs. Kennedy.

At each session the former First Lady, who wore a simple V-neck, sleeveless, two-piece white ribbed silk dress and white shoes and gloves, made a brief speech.

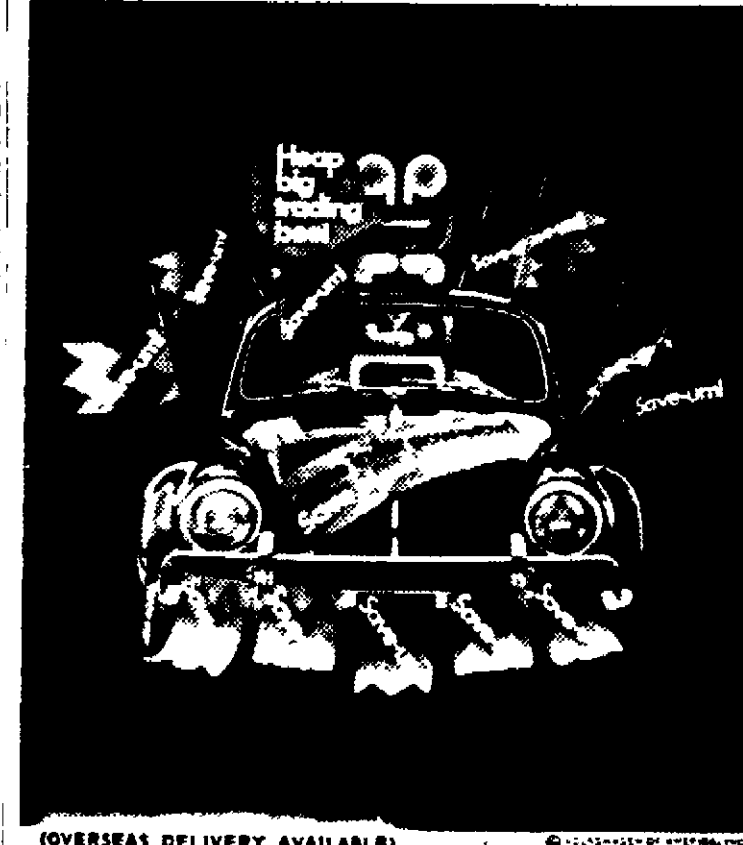

"I want to thank all of you for coming who helped President Kennedy in 1960," she said in a statewide election, she said, "I have a Rendezvous with Death."

Her words of thanks followed a reading by actor Fredric March and his actress wife Florence Eldridge of selections from the late President's favorite prose and poetry. They included John Buchanan's "Pilgrim's Way" and Alan Seeger's "I Have a Rendezvous with Death."

Occasionally Mrs. Kennedy took a brief rest upstairs in a fourth floor suite. The Kennedy sisters-in-law or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, would then take her place in the reception line with the Harrimans.

Disadvantage to Owning Two Cars

CENTRALIA, Wash. (AP)—Being a two-car family has its disadvantages. Robert Smith, Kent, Wash., second car was driven by his stopped on the freeway north of wife, Ute.

Ugh.

This is an awful picture of a Volkswagen. It's just not us. We can't go in much for trading bees or sales parades or assorted powwows. Maybe it's because we don't quite understand the system. We've never figured out why they run clearance sales on brand new cars. If there are cars left over every year, why make so many in the first place? And how come the price goes down, even though the cars are still brand new? How does the poor guy who bought one last week feel about this week's price? How can a dealer keep enough parts on hand when they'll keep changing? How can a mechanic keep track of what he's doing? It's all very confusing. Either we're way behind the times or way ahead.

Democratic Chairman Predicts

LBJ Expected to Carry 62 Pct. of State Vote

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—President Johnson will carry Wisconsin with 62 per cent of the said.

November vote. Democratic state chairman Louis Hanson stood that the stakes are so high we can't risk giving the indicators.

Such a margin would make the President a bigger winner than former President Harry S. Truman, the last Democratic victor in Wisconsin.

Hanson would only identify the polling agency as "completely thorough and competent." And in an interview Wednesday he would not reveal findings on races for governor and U.S. senator.

Campaign Stop

At least one campaign stop has been scheduled for President Johnson in Wisconsin. Hanson said the site probably will be Milwaukee and the date sometime in October.

The state chairman said he was given the information in a huddle with White House aides gathered in Democratic convention city. He said he was told the vice presidential nominee, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota will be a frequent visitor in Wisconsin.

According to Hanson, Humphrey will make several Wisconsin train tours in the whistle stop style of Truman.

Similar swings are planned for other name campaigners, but they will travel by bus.

Travel By Bus

"The buses will be fitted out like parlor cars and used by Cabinet officers, senators and others making trips through the state," Hanson said.

The chairman pinpointed the V-neck, sleeveless, two-piece areas of Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, and the 2nd and 10th Congressional districts as the spots of major concentration in the Democratic campaign.

"Sen. Gaylord Nelson showed that is where Democrats win the statewide elections," Hanson said. Nelson served two terms as governor—the first of his party elected in 25 years—then whipped incumbent Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley in 1962.

Convince GOP

"I think the hardest thing for us will be to convince Republicans can voters that their party no longer represents the view of the Teddy Roosevelts, the La Follettes and many fine moderates, including Dwight Eisenhower," Hanson said.

The party candidate for lieutenant governor, Patrick J. Lucey of Madison, expanded on Hanson's comment.

"We must try to reach the voters concerned about the com-

Home Spun Appeal

In scanning Wisconsin's political map, the former state chairman said he saw where President Johnson would "wipe out the main deficits" contributing to the late President Kennedy's loss of the state four years ago. He cited Dane County and a tier of counties in northwest Wisconsin which formerly comprised the 9th Congressional District.

"The same kind of homespun appeal that Harry Truman had" will benefit Johnson in the rural spots of those areas, Lucey said.

HOW SHOULD WE PRAY?

Prayer is far more than an SOS, says The Right Rev. James A. Pike.

He shows why "day-to-day life takes on an entirely new dimension as you are more and more conscious of living out your moments under God, for God and with God."

Valley Center Schedules 18 Evening Classes

Course List Includes Science, Literature, And Social Sciences

Eighteen late afternoon and evening courses will be offered at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center during the fall semester.

Registration for part-time students will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 10, in the fine arts room of the center. Course fees will be $16 per credit for a program of seven credits or less, and a total fee of $150 for eight or more credits. Classes will begin Monday, Sept. 14.

A three-credit course in anthropology will meet from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. A five-credit chemistry course on Tuesday and Thursday will include a lecture at 4:30 p.m., discussion at 5:30 p.m. and laboratory session from 6:30 to 8:20 p.m.

A drawing course (descriptive geometry) for three credits will meet from 6 to 8:40 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

English Courses Five three-credit English courses are scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Freshman license was revoked for one English course from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. from 6 to 7:15 p.m. He appeared in Waupaca Municipal Justice Court Thursday.

English literature from 6 to 7:15 p.m. and American literature from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. He appeared in Waupaca Municipal Justice Court Thursday.

A European history course will be held from 6 to 7:15 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, and an American history course from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. Both are for three credits.

Three mathematics courses are scheduled. Algebra and trigonometry will be offered Tuesday from 5 to 5:50 p.m. Monday through Thursday, for four credits; calculus and analytic geometry for five credits, Monday through Friday, and introductory college algebra from 7 to 8:40 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, for four credits.

A three-credit mechanics course in statics will meet from County Court Branch 2.

4:50 to 6:05 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.
Chorus One Credit
Chorus, a one-credit music course, will meet from 4 to 4:50 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

American national government, a three-credit political science course, will meet from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. Monday and Wednesday. Introduction to psychology, a four-credit course, will be held from 7 to 8:40 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

Two three-credit sociology courses are scheduled: "Man in Society," from 6 to 7:15 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, and social psychology, from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Persons interested in the courses should call first to check on whether they have the prerequisites, according to H. L. Zillmer and Miss Lila Locksmith, student advisers.

Two Fox Valley men, in separate hearings, have been found guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Robert Hebblethwaite, 33, Amherst, was fined $100 for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

He appeared in Waupaca Municipal Justice Court Thursday.

Hebblethwaite was arrested Thursday. Pope said he stopped driving his truck at 1 a.m. and told American history course from him to go home because he had been drinking.

He said at 2:20 a.m., he observed Hebblethwaite reulumbus will receive corporate communion at 7:30 a.m. Sunday at St. John Catholic Church.

Breakfast will be served at her way through Wayland Aca-Hammen's Restaurant following the service. Joseph Lewandowski, chairman, is accepting reservations for the fair assisted by Jacob Bons, Combined Locks. An effort is being made to determine attendance to insure adequate food preparation.

Village K of C Set Corporate Communion

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the Father Van Den Borne Council of the Knights of Columbus will receive corporate communion at 7:30 a.m. Sunday at St. John Catholic Church. Breakfast will be served at her way through Wayland Aca-Hammen's Restaurant following the service. Joseph Lewandowski, chairman, is accepting reservations for the fair assisted by Jacob Bons, Combined Locks. An effort is being made to determine attendance to insure adequate food preparation.

Rain From Hurricane Cleo will prevail over the greater portion of the south Atlantic states. Showers are due in parts of the northern Rockies and over the Lakes into parts of the mid Mississippi valley. It will be warmer in the northeastern corner of the country and the northern and central Plains and cooler in the Mississippi valley and the northern Plateau. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Correspondent for 25 Years Dies at Clintonville at 93

CLINTONVILLE — Funeral to Clintonville. Stanley died in services for Mrs. C. B. Stanley, May, 1927.

A Post-Crescent correspondent Mrs. Stanley was appointed to for more than 25 years, were the public library board in 1926 and was a member of 28 years.

Mrs. Stanley, 93, 125 N. Main St., died after a lingering illness.

A memorial fund has been established for the church. The former Anna Lansworth was born Oct. 3, 1870 in Primrose. After a music course in Wayland Academy, she directed a choir at Ogema for five years.

Directed Choirs During her residence in Manitowish, she directed two choirs. She then directed the New London Congregational Church choir for 15 years and organized a junior choir.

At age 17 she taught school at Curtis. Since teachers were scarce, she taught country school the year around for three years — moving to a different school every three months.

With her savings she financed her way through Wayland Academy. After graduation, she Washington and Mason streets taught for three years at Ogema and again to Lawrence Street and Badger Avenue where she married C. B. Stanley, small fires from construction were extinguished.

Authorities said the flames were tipped over and oil was spilled on the asphalt and burned. Damage was slight.

Some Girls Are Just Naturally Built That Way

CHICAGO (AP) — Science has a not-too-assuring word for anxious mothers of fat daughters.

A study announced Thursday showed that of 180 teen-age fat girls, 175 of them were just naturally built that way.

And furthermore, their builds were largely inherited from their parents.

Technically, Doctors Carl C. Seltzer and Jean Mayer of Harvard University described the 175 fat girls' build as endomorphic, having "roly-poly physique with the abdomen larger than the chest and relatively small hands and feet."

The endomorph, they said, has a natural tendency to put on off appropriations to public life.

Results of the study were re-ported in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Action Urged on Library Service

Ask Rural Outagamie Residents To Appeal to Their Supervisors

Outagamie County rural residents who want continued free use of city library services should contact their county board supervisors and seek separate agreements between individual towns or villages and the libraries. Supv. Eugene F. Kloes (Appleton 4) said Monday.

Kloes, a member of the county board's health, education and institutions committee, made the statement in explaining the county board's decision to cut off appropriations to public libraries after 1964.

He said the committee's intention in recommending the cut was not to curtail services, but rather to have each government unit pay for its share of costs.

A letter from the Appleton and Kaukauna public library boards, sent last week to their non-resident patrons, said that on Jan. 1 the libraries will begin charging non-resident fees "unless the county board can be persuaded to work towards an equitable sharing of costs." Both libraries now extend their services free of charge to all county residents and to public and parochial schools in the county.

The two libraries are the largest of the eight public libraries in Outagamie County. The Appleton library is receiving $7,350 and the Kaukauna library $1,102.50 of the total county library appropriation of $10,500 this year.

Kloes said the committee believes each town, village or school district should enter into its own contract with one of the city libraries and pay for services based on its share of the number of borrowers or the circulation.

"We think this is the most honest approach," he said. "It makes everybody pay their part for the use of the library."

Appleton Pays Most Since Appleton pays about 51 per cent of the county tax levy, the city pays over half the library appropriation, he noted. "People who live outside the cities must pay for the services for which they are not paying taxes. We don't see why we should penalize the city of Appleton taxpayer."

The library boards each year have asked for an increased county levy, reaching $50,000 for all the libraries, and the biggest burden would fall on the city taxpayers, Kloes said.

"The library people themselves do not want to sit with three or four or five different governmental bodies and explain to them why they should pay this part for the service," he said.

Johnson's Goal Is A 'Great Society'

President Stresses Program For Future Peace, Prosperity

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson has asked the American people for a mandate to build what he calls the great society: "A place where the meaning of man's life matches the marvels of man's labor."

Accepting the Democratic party's nomination for president, Johnson, with those words, gave the Democratic National Convention Thursday night his definition for the phrase that he hopes will stamp his 1964 election campaign — the great society.

And, while cheers and toots and whirling banners punctuated his long pauses, the President told the Democrats: "I ask the American people for a man-

In the Haitian port city of Les Cayes, Cleo killed 80 persons, destroyed or damaged nearly every building and left the population of 20,000 bewildered and with little food.

Other Fatalities
Authorities reported Thursday that 44 other persons were known to have died in the surrounding countryside, bringing to 124 the official death toll from Monday's howling winds.

Earlier, Cleo killed 14 on the French island of Guadeloupe. There was no definite estimate of the damage to the Miami metropolitan area, which bore the brunt of Cleo's fury Thursday.

State damage survey teams were to arrive today, and officials said the federal government would be asked to declare the city a disaster area.

Grapefruit Crop Damaged
As it moved up the coast, Cleo smashed town after town and dealt a blow to a part of Florida's citrus belt that could send grapefruit prices rocketing upward.

In the south-central area, some growers estimated 50 to 75 per cent of the grapefruit crop now reaching maturity, was blown off.

At Jacksonville, about 170 miles north of Cape Kennedy, the Navy ordered the carrier Shangri-La and accompanying destroyers eastward into the Atlantic and out of the storm's way.

The ships were training off the northeast Florida Coast. Navy destroyers remained in the basin at Mayport Naval Station, and smaller craft were moved upriver to safer anchorages.

Surveys of Damage
More than 300 planes from Mayport and Jacksonville and Cecil Field Naval Air Stations were flown to inland military bases, some as far away as Texas.

First surveys of damage showed:

Metropolitan Miami — eighty per cent power failure, 61,600 phones out of service, 12,000 homes damaged, store windows smashed and merchandise ruined, streets blocked by fallen trees and limbs, apartment houses and homes without windows or electricity.

Burmese Buddhists Warned Against Militant Activities
Fort Lauderdale — Roads blocked by drifted sand, power and telephone failure, buildings under construction razed to the ground, numerous fires, damage estimated at $15 million.

West Palm Beach — Power and phones out, planes damaged at the airport, shopping centers littered with merchandise from demolished shops, an 85-foot ship beached to the north.

Fort Pierce — Fishing pier swept away, roads flooded, general power and phone failure, boats sunk in harbor, homes unroofed, cars flattened by falling trees, large portion of citrus crop lost.

Vero Beach — Power failure, roads blocked by fallen trees, windows smashed and some homes unroofed.

and progressive Republicans to enlist under the Democratic banner.

Lashes at Goldwater
Earlier in the day, addressing a rally of 15,000 Young Democrats, he cautioned them not to boo the mention of Goldwater's name. His theme: "Be kind to Republicans. They might join us."

As the convention howled approval, Humphrey let Goldwater have it with both barrels as a man "facing backward — against the mainstream of history."

"The American presidency," he said, "is not the place for a man who is impetuous in one moment and indecisive in the next, who is violently for something one day, and violently opposed on the next; whose statements on matters of major policy are so confusing and contradictory that neither friend nor foe knows where he stands."

Cuts Huge Cake
With that off his chest, Johnson marched into a noisy party in a lounge where admirers were singing "happy birthday" in observance of his 56th. There, Johnson cut a 10-foot square cake depicting all of the states, slicing first into the Texas area.

Johnson then stepped out on a balcony overlooking the board-turn, climbed to the podium and stood in full view of the delegation, and watched fireworks out his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, was about to be shown.

As handclapping applause began, the organ boomed into sound. Within 30 seconds, it was silent. But the applause went on, swelling from the floor, where state banners were dancing in cadence, to the crowded balconies.

Symbol of Late President
For 13 minutes there was a sustained outburst of sentiment as the slight young man stood motionless, his arms at his sides, the silent symbol of a president who had been murdered and of all of the clan of an administration which had died with him.

The political professionals who viewed this unstaged demonstration agreed that President Bailey said in advance of the Johnson had been wise in arranging for the vice presidential nomination to be voted Wednesday night. In the light of Bobby dy's strategists, would be executive director Lawrence F. O'ed to speculate on what might have happened if the nomination had been tossed to the delegates.

When the president had conferred with him, Clifton Carter, an old Johnson our programs, we have to elect Democrats at the state and local level. We have to elect John Reynolds, who is known all across the country, and we have to elect Pat Lucey," Kennedy said in his endorsement.

Calling for support of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket, Kennedy reflected again on Wisconsin in 1960 when the Minnesotan opposed his brother.

"I remember Hubert Humphrey sort of vaguely from Wisconsin. What I'm so delighted about now is that he is on our side. Now, Mr. Goldwater and Mr. Miller are going to have to face Hubert Humphrey," Kennedy said.

The recollection of the Wisconsin - Kennedy ties started with an introduction by Milwaukee Rep. Clement Zablocki. Robert Kennedy, Zablocki said, will be "the next senator from New York and some day the President of the United States."

Biggest Boost

Reynolds obviously regarded the reporting of the Kennedy endorsement in Wisconsin as the biggest boost for what most Democrats regard as a close race for re-election to come from convention week, though Reynolds was on the convention, platform Tuesday to make a television introduction.

Thursday was a day with times of quiet reflection for what might have been if not for last Nov. 22. Tickets were actively sought for an afternoon reception attended by the president's widow, and Wisconsin seats were filled for a memorial film which opened the convention Thursday night, events stark in contrast with convention hub-bub in the with Johnson at a White House visit and had urged him to campaign in the South as well as other sections of the land.

Bailey said there will be Johnson visits to the South as well as every other section of the nation. But he said the President is going to husband his time, making short political forays only when he feels his presidential duties permit them.

Bailey's prescription for Humphrey's campaigning was: "He'll go everywhere and do everything."

But aides said the President had told Humphrey to get back to his Senate chores next week and stick to them until Congress adjourns. Humphrey thought that might not be until the end of two more weeks.

Group Plans Fall Madison Meeting

The fall conference of the Wisconsin Regional Writers Association will be in Madison Oct. 3 and 4 at the Wisconsin Center Building on the University of Wisconsin campus.

Highlight of the conference will be a tea Saturday afternoon at the Governor's Mansion.

Featured speakers will be Prof. Jerry McNeeley, who has had scripts produced on 90-Minute Playhouse and Hallmark Playhouse, and who teaches in the UW Speech Department, and Mrs. William Proxmire, author of "One Foot in Washington."

Taking part in the program will be Prof. Robert E. Gard, his daughter, Maryo, and Becky Herb. The two 15-year-old authors will tell about their trip to New York to deal with publishers of their forthcoming book, "The Mystery of the Lost Dauphin."

Representatives of several publishers will bring information to Wisconsin's writing group at its 16th Conference. Reservations must be in by Sept. 15.

There were more reports, now that nominations are finished, on how Wisconsin Democrats had to change with history to the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Best Choice

Reynolds disclosed Thursday that President Johnson called him three weeks ago, after Robert Kennedy was removed from vice presidential possibilities. Reynolds said he told the President Humphrey was the best choice.

The involvement of any state chief executive trying to win re-election in all issues was underlined for Reynolds by reports of National Farmer Organization demonstrations reaching here from Wisconsin and public cross-fire on what to do with Lt. Gov. Jack Olson and Atty. Gen. George Thompson, both Republicans.

Reynolds spent much of his time here keeping in touch with his capitol office on developments and their political meanings.

The addition of farm problems to state issues was recognized at a last delegation caucus Thursday, otherwise filled with hep talks and rosy predictions. Assemblyman Ben Riehle, Athens, said "it is almost a pity" the way some dairy farms are faced with short income and increasing costs.

"We have to tell the farmer this isn't a Democratic depression. It is a leftover from the Benson era," he said of Eisenhower farm policy.

vote-getters in the Wisconsin Democratic party.

One veteran who earned political service stripes in a score of Wisconsin campaigns recalled that such top Democrats as Sens. Nelson and Proxmire launched their own careers with explicit attacks upon the man who is now in the White House under whose banners they are now marching. Some memorof the "Old Johnson" may linger among the Wisconsin liberal faithful. It will be one of Humphrey's tasks to stamp it out through vigorous Wisconsin stumping which is already being booked.

Clasp Hands

Democrats clasp hands more willingly after their intramural scraps than do their Republican rivals. But the question lingers whether the deep loyalty among some top Wisconsin Democrats toward the memory of John Kennedy has been offended by the president's rejection of the candidacy of Robert Kennedy for the vice presidential nomination. The excited scramble among Wisconsin politicians for tickets to Jacqueline Kennedy's reception Thursday, and the zealous organization of a Wisconsin rally for Atty. General Kennedy at the Wisconsin hotel were suggestive, at least.

Inevitably involved in the psychology of the Democrats of this week was their awareness of the uncertainty of the fight for control of the state capitol. The clearest conclusion a visitor could reach was that the party is worried about Gov. John Reynolds' battle for re-election.

Outbreak of Cholera Checked by Japanese

TOKYO (AP)—Health officials expressed belief today they have succeeded in checking a cholera outbreak.

The Health and Welfare Ministry credited a mass inoculation program with preventing the disease from spreading after a plumber died of cholera Tuesday in Narashino City, 15 miles east of Tokyo.

Health workers estimated they inoculated about 18,000 persons in Narashino City. Similar programs have been conducted in other Japanese cities.

Fabian Meets Public After Three Years

Singer Flashed to Stardom, Survived; And Now Building Solid Acting Career

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Take a Philadelphia teen-ager off a front porch, give him the handle of Fabulous Fabian, make him a pop singer even if he can't sing, expose him to the screams of frantic females, put him into the bigtime with veteran stars.

What happens afterwards? In the case of Fabian, it is a wonder that he didn't end up shattered as a person and forgotten as a personality. Now 21, he seems to have survived.

Fabian had just finished a role with James Stewart in "Dear Brigitte". The lad was preparing to leave on a tour to plug "Ride the Wild Surf," in which he starred for Columbia.

It was to be his first extensive meeting with the public in three years, during which he has striven to escape the anonymity that threatens all teen-age idols. The Fabian saga was etched in the hearts of millions of movie, hysterical girls clamoring in front of his own home, stuck her hand through the window of Frankie Avdon and scratched his eye.

into a star in one of the greatest selling campaigns since the Edsel.

His memory of those early days: "I don't remember anything about the performances. I got on the stage, did the songs and got off without the slightest recollection of what had happened."

(Fabian will appear as the emcee of the Dick Clark Caravan of Stars at 8 p.m. Sept. 4 at the Brown County Memorial Arena in Green Bay.)

Fabian had just finished a role with James Stewart in "Dear Brigitte". The lad was preparing to leave on a tour to plug "Ride the Wild Surf," in which he starred for Columbia.

Often the scene became violent: fire hoses to control the mob in Union City, N.J.; 14 girls sent to the hospital in Baltimore. When Fabian arrived at the airport here for his first movie, hysterical girls clamored over his limousine; one, in front of his own home, stuck her hand through the window of Frankie Avdon and scratched his eye.

The adult reaction was entirely the reverse, especially in the press.

"Everytime I faced a reporter I knew I was going to get rapped," he recalled. "I finally began telling them: 'Look, you're entitled to your opinion; go ahead and write what you please. All I'm trying to do is entertain, and apparently the public is buying.'"

But how long would the notoriously fickle teen-agers go on buying? Fabian was barely 18 when he gave the matter some thought.

"The first time I thought that I might have a future in the acting business was when I did 'North to Alaska' with John Wayne," he said. "I got the first good reviews I had ever received."

Stopped Singing

He decided to make a clean break. He paid off the contract with his discoverer-manager. He started serious study of dramatics. And he stopped singing. He hasn't made a record in three years.

As part of his campaign for a new image, he even proposed resuming the use of his last name, which is Forte.

"But producers told me they were buying Fabian, not an actor named Fabian Forte," he said. "That's all right with me — as long as they keep buying."

At the time of her retirement, Burns explained why she quit: "She's never missed acting for a minute. She never was a ham, anyway. Most actors are aware of playing to an audience. Not Gracie. The side of the stage toward the audience was a wall to her. She concentrated only on what she had to say and never gave a thought to cameras or lights or makeup or anything."

Deserved Rest

"She deserved a rest. She had been working all her life, and her lines were the toughest in the world to do. They didn't make sense, so she had to memorize every word. It took a real actress."

"Every spare moment — in bed, under the hair dryer — had to be spent in learning lines. Do you wonder that she's happy to be rid of it?"

Miss Allen was born in 1906, the year of the great earthquake in San Francisco. Named Grace Ethel Cecil Rosalie Allen, she was one of four daughters of Edward Allen, a song and dance man then booked in San Francisco.

Debut at 3½

At 3½ she had made her stage debut. But she continued in Catholic schools until she was 14, when she began a dancing act with her three older sisters.

Later, she joined an Irish song and dance act and at one time went to secretarial school in Hoboken, N.J. It was in New Jersey that she met George.

Born Nathan Burnbaum in 1896, Burns had been through the vaudeville mill and claims to have weathered 50 partners before encountering Gracie.

She saw him on a bill at Union Hill, N.J., where he was booked as Burns and Lorraine. They met after the show and George revealed he was seeking a new partner. He suggested that Gracie join him.

Rewrote Act

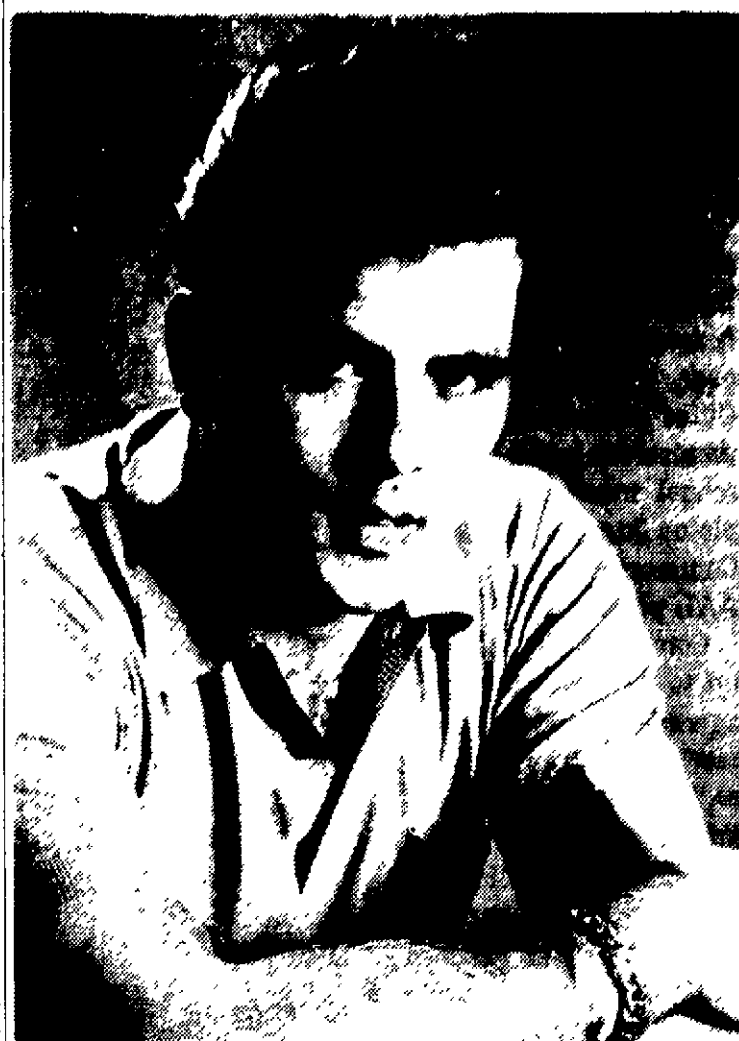

Gracie recalled later: "Of course George had written this act for himself, with himself as the comedian and I as the right straight man. But the funny thing — my straight lines got the laughs. People laughed at me as hard as my not being funny as they laughed at George's being funny. When we came off after the first show, he said, 'We're switching parts. Gracie. I rewrote the act then and there.'"

Burns and Allen played vaudeville for three years before he was able to convince her they should get married. They were wed in Cleveland on Jan. 7, 1926.

After their marriage they were propelled into the big time.

They became headliners in vaudeville and starred on the nightclubs and on television and bill that ended Vaudeville at New York's Palace Theater. Channing He also produced television guest-starring on Rudy elevision shows such as "Mr. Ed" and "The Robert Cummings Show" and will star this coming season in a new series, "Wendy and Me."

Fabian Is the Featured star and emcee of Dick Clark's Caravan of Stars coming to the Brown County Memorial Arena in Green Bay Sept. 4. The stage show, scheduled to start at 8 p.m., includes such top pop recording artists as Gene Pitney of "Town Without Pity" fame, the Dixie Cups, dancer-singer Major Lance; solo vocalists Mike Clifford, Bobby Freeman and Brian Hyland, The Premiers; The Reflections, male quartet; quartet of girls with one fellow, the Jelly Beans; feminine quartet known as the Crystals and the Rip Chords, trio of two songsters and a guitarist.

School Board President Has New Job, But Isn't Sure What It Is

Mrs. Munro Appointed to Board of Control Which Will Replace County Superintendents

Mrs. George Munro, president of school reorganization of the Appleton Board of Education, placed all areas of the state in a new job but high school district, the duties of the county superintendent's office have diminished. The new by Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction, to appoint a delegate to the board of control of the co-operative educational service agency which eventually will function in place of county school superintendents.

"Although the agency areas have not been determined as yet, compliance with the law indicates the delegate is to be appointed now," Rothwell's communication stated.

The school board unanimously appointed Mrs. Munro to the post, overriding her suggestions to "delay this until we find out what it is all about."

A 1963 state law provided for the abolition of the office of county superintendent of schools and its replacement with a system of co-operative educational service agencies. Since completion of the Appleton school district, the duties of the county superintendent's office have diminished. The new by Angus B. Rothwell, state superintendent of public instruction, to appoint a delegate to the board of control of the co-operative educational service agency which eventually will function in place of county school superintendents.

The first meeting of the boards of control will be on the third Monday in March, 1965. Since the delegate from the school district in the service agency with the largest full valuation is to call this meeting and act as temporary chairman, this probably will be the responsibility of the Appleton delegate, Supt. of Schools William Spears pointed out.

When the state committee develops its plan for division of the state into service agency areas, school boards and other school officials will have an opportunity to examine the plan and make recommendations for modification before its adoption.

The division will not necessarily be along county lines. The division will not necessarily be along county lines.

52,900,000 Students Expected at Colleges During Autumn Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education estimates that a record 52.9 million students will enroll in the nation's schools and colleges this fall. This represents well over a quarter of the U.S. population and marks the 20th straight year of record enrollment. Last fall 51.6 million were enrolled.

College enrollments are expected to be up 6.7 per cent to 4.8 million, secondary school (grades 9-12) enrollments up 4.1 per cent to 12.7 million and elementary school enrollments up 1.4 per cent to 35.4 million. The office said it expects expenditures for education to surpass the record $33.7 billion spent during the 1963-64 school year.

Too Old to Retire

Burns continued his own career after his wife's retirement — "I'm too old to retire," he cracked.

He appeared as a single in vaudeville and on television and bill that ended Vaudeville at New York's Palace Theater. Channing He also produced television guest-starring on Rudy elevision shows such as "Mr. Ed" and "The Robert Cummings Show" and will star this coming season in a new series, "Wendy and Me."

Nuclear Scientist Warns of Science's Dominating Power

Tells Appleton Kiwanis Club About 'Never-Ending Search'

"Science is a never-ending search for knowledge and it or perhaps the beginning of the age of science," Grotenhuis told the Kiwanians. "The major challenge that faces us in the future is that of survival in a rapidly changing world, or perhaps I should say universe, because our children or grandchildren may one day live on another planet."

Giving a personal illustration of the recent advances in science, Grotenhuis said, "I taught chemistry and physics 20 years ago when the nucleus consisted of three fundamental particles. I understood it quite well. Today there are something closer to 30 particles in the nucleus and the consensus is that we really don't understand it. Furthermore, it takes machines costing millions of dollars to find out that we don't know."

Distinguishing basic science — "study for the sake of knowledge" — and applied science — "study for the application of existing knowledge" — and their interaction, Grotenhuis said, "It is not unlikely that the cure for cancer will not come from any of the current projects spending great sums of money on the study of this disease but from research on some other disease, or possibly on some non-medical problem."

Person With Curiosity

him to add to the world's knowledge, but the basic ingredient is curiosity. This cannot be instilled easily, but it can be stifled at an early age."

Because of the dominating role science plays in our lives, it is important that everyone should know a little science and not this indirect treatment," she said that "at least some scientists should be broadly developed in individuals and know something besides science," he said.

simple discovery for the sake of knowledge can become a major factor in the world's existence."

Common Good

He called for dedication to work in harmony toward a goal of common good "lest our vast improvements in science be applied too narrowly, lest they influence us too strongly."

"We must keep up our balance in the arts, music, social science and the humanities," he added.

"Science will certainly be a dominating influence in the future. Which way it will go we do not know," Grotenhuis said. To show the alternatives, he told of the response of a scientist who helped develop the nuclear bomb to a query on what manner of weapons would be used in World War III: "I do not know, but in World War IV they will likely be sticks and stones."

In the question period following his lecture, Grotenhuis said, "I sometimes think the way to understanding ultimate truth — which I am sure exists, but not sure if we will ever get there — is in the extreme simplicity with which all things behave."
